A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1055, as follows:

An Act providing and regulating State assistance for housing including slum clearance and redevelopment and making an appropriation

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows.

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Housing and Redevelopment Assistance Law"

Section 2 Declaration of Policy It has been determined by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth

(a) That in both urban and rural communities of Pennsylvania there exist inadequate or over-crowded dwellings accompanied by an acute shortage of decent safe and sanitary housing within the financial reach of families of limited incomes

(b) That these conditions singly and in combination are a menace to the health and welfare of the people of Pennsylvania because they encourage the spread of disease impair public health and morals increase the hazard of fires and accidents resulting in loss of life and property subject the young to influences which have a permanently deleterious effect on their moral standards increase violation of the criminal laws of the Commonwealth jeopardizing the safety and welfare of its people and necessitating the expenditure of large sums of public money for the purpose of crime prevention punishment and correction fire protection public health and relief

(c) That the correction of these conditions requires the erection of housing projects on a basis which will provide additional housing at rentals which persons of limited incomes can afford to pay but such projects have not been erected because of the high construction costs which prevail

(d) That to induce the erection and maintenance of the housing needed for persons of limited incomes it is essential that the Commonwealth assume a portion of the rental cost by paying for a portion of the construction costs of certain new housing projects

(e) That the governing bodies of political subdivisions may be of the opinion that their over-all housing needs can best be met by the effective operation of redevelopment authorities and

(f) That the Commonwealth should recognize such a local determination and give financial assistance to redevelopment authorities in order to effectuate the purposes of the urban redevelopment law and of this act

Therefore it is declared to be the policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to promote the health morals safety and welfare of its inhabitants by providing for state assistance to tenants of limited income through a contribution to the cost of housing projects to be erected and offered for occupancy at moderate rentals as a means of making such housing available to them at rentals within their ability to pay and by assisting the communities of this Commonwealth in meeting their housing needs by making grants to redevelopment authorities

Section 3 Definitions The following words terms and phrases where used or referred to in this act shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section except in those instances where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

(a) "Aggregate Income" the total annual income of all occupants of a rental unit less an exemption of one hundred dollars ($100) for each minor occupying the rental unit or receiving his main support from the lessee Of such total annual income not more than ten per cent interest or income from capital investments

Section 7 Grant Limitations Pursuant to Section 4 (a) of this act the State Planning Board shall make no capital grant for any housing project which shall exceed thirty-five percent of its land acquisition development construction and preoccupancy cost as finally ascertained by the Board

Any capital grants made under this act shall be strictly limited to the amounts and percentage of total cost necessary in the determination of the State Planning Board to accomplish the purposes of this act

The total amount of all grants made by the State Planning Board for slum clearance and redevelopment pursuant to section four (b) of this act shall not exceed thirty per cent of the amount appropriated by this act

Section 8 Procedures The State Planning Board subject to the approval of the Governor shall tentatively allocate to the several areas of the Commonwealth as designated by the Board such capital grants under the limitations specified in this act as may promote aid or stimulate the erection of housing within that area

In the determination of such tentative allocations the State Planning Board shall be guided by the following standards population distribution pattern growth as determined by the State Planning Board in the period since 1940 trends of industry and such evidence of housing needs throughout the State as are available to the Board

The State Planning Board shall publicize in each area concerned the tentative allocation of State subsidy funds for the stimulation of housing construction in that area in each case making every reasonable effort to inform officials of political subdivisions and representatives of agencies such as those enumerated in Section 4 of this act as possible participants in this program

Each such political subdivision or agency evidencing within a reasonable period of time as determined by the Board an interest in participating in the program with accompanying proof of local housing need recommendation of a suitable and available site information as to community attitude and evidence that the municipality is recognizing its housing needs by enforcing the laws concerning building construction and sanitation and other pertinent supporting data shall have its request reviewed in the light of other requests from that area and the total amount of tentative allocations for the area After review by the Board and if a housing project is involved and if the need and feasibility of the proposed project has been demonstrated and where a suitable site is available and where adequate funds are available for allocation the Board shall accept bids on housing construction and operation proposals covering such number and character of housing units type of construction site rental ranges proposed and such other requirements as are established by the Board Each bid submitted shall stipulate the amount of State subsidy which would be required by the bidder to construct and operate the housing projects in accordance with the before mentioned requirements of the Board

If the tentative allocation of grants in any area in the State does not energize action resulting in acceptable proposals within a reasonable time as determined by the Board the Board shall have power to reallocate with the approval of the Governor these grants to other areas in the Commonwealth which as determined by the before mentioned standards have effectively established an urgent need for additional housing facilities Unused portions of these reallocations may be similarly reallocated at later dates so as to effectuate the purposes of this act

In order to effectuate and enforce the provisions of this act the Board is authorized to promulgate necessary rules and regulations

Section 9 Board Action on Bids

The Board may reject any or all bids It shall determine which of the acceptable bids made by responsible bidders will provide for erection and rental of the housing units in accordance with the terms of the Board's request for bids at the lowest cost to the Commonwealth and shall notify the successful bidder which may be the sole bidder and shall on behalf of the Commonwealth after ratification by the Governor as provided in Section 10 of this act enter into a contract with the successful bidder

Section 10 Ratification by the Governor All bids accepted by the Board shall be transmitted to the Governor for his consideration and must be ratified by him before the Board may enter into contractual relations with the bidder Upon ratification of a bid by the Governor the Board is authorized to execute contracts effectuating the terms of the bid and proposal embodying the provisions specified in Section 11 of this act and providing for the payment of the capital grant

Section 11 Contracts No State funds for capital grants under the provisions of Section 4 (a) of this act shall be disbursed until the State Planning Board after ratification of the bid by the Governor as specified in Section 10 has entered into a contract with the bidder embodying suitable guarantees as to the erection maintenance and management of the proposed housing project in accordance with the purposes of this act and including provision for

(1) the termination of the Commonwealth's powers and responsibilities with respect to said project after a specified term of not less than twenty-eight years

(2) An agreement that the bidder shall not voluntarily subject the premises to any lien or mortgage other than such as may be specified in the contract and that any transfer of the project or any assignment of investor's interest under the agreement shall be subject to all the terms of the contract and this act and shall not relieve the investor of the investor's obligation under the contract

(3) provisions that the scale of rentals and tenant income limitations originally agreed upon may at some later date be modified by action of the Board upon petition by the bidder so as to recognize changes in general or local economic conditions and in cold storage or while in transit from one cold storage warehouse to another

Section 6 Inspection of Cold Storage Warehouse or Locker Plants and Records

The Department shall inspect and supervise all cold storage warehouses and locker plants and make such inspection of articles of food therein as well as all records as it may deem necessary to secure the proper enforcement of this act and its agents shall have access to all cold storage warehouses and locker plants at all reasonable times

The Department may appoint such persons as it deems qualified to make such inspection under this act

Section 7 Insanitary Condition of Cold Storage Warehouse or Locker Plants Notice Revocation of License

In case any cold storage warehouse or locker plant or any part thereof shall at any time be deemed by the Department to be in an insanitary condition or not properly equipped for its intended use it shall notify the licensee of such condition and upon the failure of the licensee to put such cold storage warehouse or locker plant in a sanitary condition or to properly equip the same for its intended use within a time to be designated by the Department it shall revoke such license

Section 8 Foods to be Wrapped or Protected

Every article of food placed in a cold storage warehouse or locker plant shall be securely packed wrapped or enclosed in a suitable container to properly protect it and keep it in a sanitary condition unless the article is of such a nature that it may be kept in a sanitary condition when stored in bulk

Section 9 Unwholesome or Diseased Food and Special Permit for Animal Feeds

It shall be unlawful for any person firm or corporation to place in any cold storage warehouse or locker plant to keep therein or to sell offer or expose for sale any diseased tainted or otherwise unwholesome food Provided however That feeding stuffs for animals use when registered with the Department properly labeled may be stored in certain parts of a cold storage warehouse if the licensee secures in advance a special written permit from the Department for such storage and complies fully with the rules and regulations governing the handling storage and other requirements of the Department to protect and safeguard against contamination or adulteration of the foods stored therein for human use or that may be stored in such cold storage warehouse The finding of any non-registered or improperly labeled feeding stuffs for animal use in a cold storage warehouse will be prima facie evidence of willful violation of this act and the owner of such products as well as the licensee may be held for violation of this act and subject to its penalties

Section 10 Length of Storage Period

No person or corporation shall keep or permit to remain in any cold storage warehouse or locker plant any article of food beyond the time when it is sound and wholesome and fit to remain in storage If any article of food is found to be fit for immediate consumption but unfit for further storage such article of food shall at once be removed from storage and not again stored No article of food shall be kept or permitted to remain in any cold storage warehouse or warehouses for a longer aggregate period than twenty-four (24) calendar months except by order of the Department Upon evidence satisfactory to the Department that the food is sound and wholesome and fit for further storage the Department may in its discretion grant an extension of the storage period The Department may in its discretion at any time notwithstanding the period of storage cause any article of food to be examined to ascertain if the food is sound and wholesome and fit for further storage

Section 11 Disposition and Sale

In the event that any article of food is held in a cold storage warehouse or warehouses for a period of longer than twenty-four (24) calendar months without extension having been applied for and granted by the Department and neither the operator of the cold storage warehouse nor the Department can locate the owner of the said article of food after ten (10) days' notice by registered mail directed to the last known address of such owner by the officials of the cold storage warehouse and a copy of said notice to the Department then and in that event the Department shall have the power to order the disposition and sale of the said article of food for the purpose of payment of charges for storage or other valid liens against same. If a sale as herein provided is ordered by the Department the proceeds of such sale shall be applied first to cover the expense of ascertaining the condition of such food second to cover the payment of any and all charges for storage and service in connection with said property and third for any other valid liens against the said property. Any balance then remaining from the proceeds of the sale shall be paid to the owner of the said property if such owner can be located and in the event the owner cannot be located within one (1) year of date of notification then any balance shall be paid into the Treasury of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

In carrying out any order of the Department for sale or disposition of any property under the provisions of this section the owner or operators of the cold storage warehouse are hereby relieved from any liability to the original owner or any other person or persons for the custody of said property and from any legal liability under any warehouse receipt issued and outstanding covering the said property.

Section 12 Return and Transfer of Goods

It shall be unlawful to return to any cold storage warehouse any article of food which has been once released from storage for the purpose of placing it on the market for sale but nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the transfer of foods from one cold storage warehouse to another. Provided That all prior markings stampings and taggings upon such articles shall remain thereon and the records of the cold storage warehouse receiving such foods shall show that the foods were transferred from another cold storage warehouse or warehouses and placing into the records the original date when such foods were entered for their initial storage. The owner of the foods or his agents shall be responsible as well as the licensee that such information is recorded in the records. And Provided further That such transfer shall not be made for the purpose of evading any provision of this act.

Section 13 Rules and Regulations

The Department shall make adopt and promulgate rules and regulations for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act.

Section 14 Penalties

Any person co-partnership association or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall for the first offense upon summary conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding fifty dollars ($50) and in default thereof such person or the responsible officers and agents of the corporation or association shall be sentenced to undergo imprisonment for not more than thirty (30) days and for a second or subsequent offense be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or in the case of individuals and the responsible officers and agents of corporations and associations to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months or both.

Section 15 Repealer

The act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. L. 670) entitled "An act defining cold storage and regulating time of storage of certain articles of food and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act" and the amendments thereto and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

(d) Manufacturers, bottlers and all persons who import syrups or bottled soft drinks into the Commonwealth shall be liable to the Commonwealth as taxpayers for the payment of the taxes imposed by this act.

Section 5 Payment of Tax by Affixing Stamps. Other evidence of payment penalties. (a) The payment of the taxes herein provided shall be evidence by the affixing of syrup or bottled soft drink tax stamps or crowns to the original containers or bottles in which all syrups or bottled soft drinks are placed, received, stored, shipped or sold. Such stamps or crowns shall be affixed to each individual container or bottle of syrup or bottled soft drink by the manufacturers or bottlers of this Commonwealth within twenty-four (24) hours after such syrups or bottled soft drinks are placed therein and by manufacturers, bottlers and other persons who import any syrup or bottled soft drinks into this Commonwealth before the same are transported within this Commonwealth for use, sale, delivery, storage or consumption therein. Nothing herein contained shall require stamps or crowns to be attached to containers or bottles of syrup or bottled soft drinks which are transported through this Commonwealth and which are not sold, delivered or stored therein if transported in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be adopted by the department.

The provisions of this section with reference to the stamping or crowning of syrup shall not apply (1) to syrup to be used by bottlers in the manufacture of bottled soft drinks or (2) to syrup in original containers to which stamps or crowns have been once affixed as required herein regardless of how often the syrup in such original containers may be sold or resold within this Commonwealth.

The provisions of this section with reference to the stamping or crowning of bottled soft drinks shall not apply to bottled soft drinks to which stamps or crowns have been once affixed as required herein regardless of how often the soft drinks in their original containers or bottles may be sold or resold within the Commonwealth.

The provisions of this section with reference to the stamping or crowning of bottled soft drinks shall not apply to bottled soft drinks to which stamps or crowns have been once affixed as required herein regardless of how often the soft drinks in their original containers or bottles may be sold or resold within the Commonwealth.

(b) It is the intent and purpose of this section to require all manufacturers, bottlers and other persons except as provided in clause (a) to affix the stamps or crowns provided for in this act to all original containers or bottles in which syrups or soft drinks are normally placed prepared for market, received, sold or handled before such products are transported within the Commonwealth.

(c) If it is established to the satisfaction of the department that due to economic conditions or due to existing stocks of unstamped crowns in the possession of manufacturers or bottlers on the effective date of this act or due to unavailability of material it is impractical to use syrup or soft drink tax stamps or crowns the department is hereby authorized and required to provide by regulation some other means of evidence of payment of the tax imposed or assessed by this act.

(d) Except as provided in clause (c) any manufacturer, bottler or person who shall prepare, manufacture or use syrups or bottled soft drinks or shall sell syrups or bottled soft drinks to bottlers, distributors, dealers or consumers without affixing to the original containers or bottles the stamps or crowns required by this act and any person who shall purchase, receive, transport, store or sell any syrup or bottled soft drinks to which the stamps or crowns required by this act are not affixed shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced for the first offense to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or to suffer imprisonment for a term not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court and in the case of a conviction of a second or subsequent offense hereunder shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than two hundred dollars ($200.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and to suffer imprisonment for a term of not less than six (6) months or more than three (3) years.

Section 6 Assessments on Failure to Pay Tax Procedure for Assessment Review. (a) If any person shall fail to pay any tax imposed by this act for which he is liable the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make an assessment of additional tax due by such person based upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession.

(b) Promptly after the date of such assessment the department shall send by registered mail a copy thereof to the person against whom it was made. Within ninety (90) days after the date upon which the copy of any such assessment was mailed such person may file with the department a petition for reassessment of such taxes. Every petition for reassessment shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitle him to such reassessment and it shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts set forth therein are true. It shall be the duty of the department within six (6) months after the date of any assessment to dispose of any petition for reassessment. Notice of the action taken upon any petition for reassessment shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of reassessment by the department.

(c) Within sixty (60) days after the date of mailing of notice by the department of the action taken on any petition for reassessment filed with it the person against whom such assessment was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action. Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reason upon which the petitioner relies or shall incorporate by reference the petition for reassessment in which such reasons shall have been stated. The petition shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true. If the petitioner be a corporation, joint-stock association or limited partnership the affidavit must be made by one of the principal officers thereof. A petition for review may be amended by the petitioner at any time prior to hearing thereon as hereinafter provided. The Board of Finance and Revenue shall act finally in disposition of such petitions filed with it within six (6) months after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within six (6) months the action taken by the department upon the petition for reassessment shall be deemed sustained. The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for reassessment or it may reassess the tax due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity. Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioner.

(d) Any person or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the board's failure to act upon his petition for review within six (6) months may within sixty (60) days appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlement.

(e) In all cases of petitions for reassessment review or appeal the burden of proof shall be upon the petitioner or appellant as the case may be.

(f) Whenever any assessment of additional tax is not paid within ninety (90) days after the date thereof if no petition for reassessment has been filed or within sixty (60) days from the date of reassessment if no petition for review has been filed or within sixty (60) days from the date of the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue upon a petition for review or the expiration of the board's time for acting upon such petition if no appeal has been made and in all cases of judicial sales, receiverships, assignments or bankruptcies the department may call upon the Department of Justice to collect such assessment. In such event in a proceeding for the collection of such taxes the person against whom they were assessed shall not be permitted to set up any ground of defense that might have been determined by the department, the Board of Finance and Revenue or the courts as aforesaid. The department may also provide adopt promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations as may be appropriate to prevent further shipment or transportation of syrup or bottled soft drinks into this Commonwealth by any person against whom such unpaid assessment shall have been made.

RULING BY CHAIR ON VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 313

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces in connection with House Bill No. 313, that notwithstanding any feeling the Chair may have in this matter, the Chair is not entitled to cast a deciding vote in case of a tie, where it means the passage of a bill finally, because it requires a majority vote of the members elected to the Senate, it requires 26 votes of the Senators.

The Constitution does provide in Article IV, Section 4, that the Lieutenant-Governor can cast a deciding vote when the Senate is divided on matters generally. There is also a provision that in order for a bill to pass, it must be passed by a majority vote of the Senators elected, and, therefore, I cannot vote on this bill, and the bill fails.

The bill will be returned to the House of Representatives with the information that the bill has been defeated.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, will state his point of order.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I voted in the affirmative on House Bill No. 313. Am I in a position now to change my vote? I mean, am I in a position to move for the reconsideration of that vote finally?

The PRESIDENT. Yes, you are in a position to move to reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 313 failed to pass the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I now move that the vote by which House Bill No. 313 passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, my point of order is that the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, is seeking to reconsider the vote. Mr. President, he did not vote with the majority, and therefore, he is not entitled to make the motion.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the record shows I did not vote with the minority.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman from Cambria that occasionally in court when the witness identifies a defendant as the fellow who robbed the bank, the fact that the defendant might bring in twenty people to swear he did not rob the bank is no defense.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules on the point of order that the Member must be one who voted with the prevailing side. The prevailing side in this particular case is the side that defeated the bill.

Therefore, it would require two Senators who voted in the negative in this case to have the vote reconsidered. The motion must be made by those who voted, no, because they are the prevailing side.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS
RULE 38 SUSPENDED

By unanimous consent,
A motion was made by Mr. LORD, JR. and Mr. HARE, To grant unanimous consent to immediate consideration of the nominations just reported from the Committee on Executive Nominations, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported.

Which was agreed to.
Whereupon,
A motion was made by Mr. LORD, JR. and Mr. HARE, That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?
Mr. LORD, JR. Mr. President, may I say that among the nominations that have been just read to the Senate, two of my distinguished brothers of the Bar of Philadelphia have been honored by His Excellency The Governor, and I merely want to say that I know John P. Boland and Emanuel W. Beloff personally and I am sure that they will serve with distinction and honor as Members of the Judiciary of our County.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. LORD, JR. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

SENATE RESOLUTION

PETITIONING THE PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION TO MAKE A COMPLETE INVESTIGATION OF THE PURCHASE OF WATER COMPANIES AND OTHER SELF LIQUIDATING UTILITIES BY MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Whereas, The General Assembly has enacted legislation which enables local governments to create an agency through which the said municipalities can purchase self-liquidating existing utilities; and

Whereas, The agency commonly known as a local authority is empowered by law to enter into agreement for the purchase and operation of utilities for the common good of the citizens of the communities served by these various utilities; and

Whereas, The contracts for the purchase of Water Companies by local authorities have the following objectional features: (1) The issuance of general securities as additional payment for the property in an amount equal to about 50% of the senior securities. These junior securities bear a rate of interest and are tax exempt, however, the said junior securities represent nothing in the way of value. (2) The vendor obtains for himself or his designee a managerial contract to operate the water works for the authority at a large sum of money per year and this contract of employment runs for the life of the bonds, usually forty years. (3) The vendor is still not satisfied. He then proceeded by contract to limit the profit in any given year of the authority to 10% and takes the last 10% for himself; and

Whereas, The inclusion of these provisions in the purchase contract entered into by the authority is a deliberate and fraudulent plan by which the rate payers are forced to pay millions of dollars over and above the real value of the purchase property; and

Whereas, The rate payers of Pennsylvania have only one agency of government to which they can look for protection, namely, The Public Utility Commission; and

Whereas, The General Assembly of Pennsylvania has given the Public Utility Commission certain duties and powers; Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate do hereby petition the Public Utility Commission to make a complete investigation of all such purchase proposals and if such proposals are not for the public benefit to refuse to allow the consummation of such purchase proposal.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, will state his point of information.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I find on Page 36 of the Pennsylvania Manual wherein it states that the majority of those elected to either House must vote in favor of a bill. Then I find on Page 38 of the Manual, Section IV of the Constitution, wherein it states that the Lieutenant-Governor shall have no vote only in case it be equally divided.

Now, by his rights, Mr. President—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if the gentleman from Cambria is challenging the decision of the Chair on a previous motion, his method is not covered in the Rules.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I have issued no challenge. I stated very specifically that I rose on a point of information, and that is no challenge.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, raises a point of information. I think the question has been answered by the ruling of the Chair, and there is no further explanation to be given.

Mr. HALUSKA. Then, Mr. President, we can't pay much attention to what we have in the Constitution.

The PRESIDENT. I think we can.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if I recall correctly, the Chair interpreted that phase of the Constitution in his ruling, and that was accepted by the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Thank you.

STUDENTS FROM RITTENHOUSE COLLEGE, PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA, PRE- SENTED TO SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, we are honored tonight with the presence of a group of ten students from the Rittenhouse College in Philadelphia, who are attending the Collegiate Conference on Government.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is, indeed, glad to welcome the students from Rittenhouse College, and we hope you enjoy the session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. FRAZIER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I would regret it exceedingly if I did not have the opportunity of saying a few words before we adjourn.

I am quite happy and a little sad today, happy that the House of Representatives was kind enough to pass a very important bill of mine—well, not so important. It was a bill which went to the great extent of including in it the right of action for damages, as prepared by me, together with motor vehicles, horse drawn vehicles. The very keen minded Senator Mahany said, "Why horse drawn? Why not animal drawn? Some day you might be the goat and draw one," and, therefore, he amended it to make it animal drawn.

Now, Mr. President, that was very gracious of the House to do that for me, but I am a little concerned about the ignorance of the Senate. All of these forty-nine associates of mine were dumb enough to pass a number of my bills that I thought were of some merit, 50-0. They went over to the House, and the intelligent men over there determined they had no merit in them, and they stayed in committee, but I am happy to say that I got one bill through the House, and maybe if I ever come back, I will see that they go to different committees in the House, or I will take some other steps.

Now, just one other thing I want to talk about, if I may. Mrs. President, I had the privilege of having in my Senatorial District, and in my own division Post No. 488, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and a very close friend of mine is Commander Lambert. I want to say, Mr. President, for them, that I believe nobody in America, nobody in Pennsylvania, is more keenly interested in canteen legislation than the sponsor, the gentleman from Lackawanna, Senator Fraser P. Donlan, a former Major in the Marine Corps, and I believe with the utmost sincerity he attempted to do what my Post would like to have done, but he came to a conclusion after many conferences that he couldn't satisfy the Department of Justice as to the constitutionality of the bills, and, therefore, it was only for that reason that he permitted them to die. I want to say for him, and on behalf of him, that it was with the utmost sincerity and good faith that he undertook that mission.

Mr. President, there is just one other thing I want to say before I sit down. I think I would be a little amiss if I didn't say it. I want to say how happy I am that we have had such efficient and able help surrounding us in the Senate of Pennsylvania, and I have had occasion to go to one department very frequently, and that is on the first floor, the office of the Senate Librarian. I want to take at this moment the opportunity of saying that I think Charlie Lathero—I hope he is listening—is one of the finest executives that the Senate has ever had. He handles the job down there most efficiently, he is surrounded by able help, and he has, I think, enough of executive ability and political mind to be of great help to me in West Philadelphia if I should ever run again in 1950.

Mr. President, I appreciate very much being given this opportunity of saying a few words, and I hope that the Post in West Philadelphia understands that the reason they did not get a license in the canteen is that under the constitution, Senator Donlan could not accomplish this for them.

STUDENTS FROM DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY,
PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA, PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, also attending this Collegiate Conference on Government are a number of boys from my Alma Mater, Duquesne University, Pittsburgh.

I would like to present to the Members of the Senate a group of boys from Duquesne University, Pittsburgh.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is, indeed, glad to welcome the students from Duquesne University, and we hope you enjoy the closing hours of the Session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DiSILVESTRO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, not wanting to take up the time of the Senate this morning, I changed my mind about this Resolution, but since Senator Frazier spoke about the help of the Senate. I would like to present this Resolution at this time.

SENATE RESOLUTION

EXTENDING THE THANKS OF THE SENATE TO THE VARIOUS OFFICERS AND EMPLOYES OF THE
SENATE FOR THEIR WORK IN THE SESSION OF 1949

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Whereas, The Lieutenant-Governor, the President Pro Tempore, the Majority Floor Leader, the Majority Whip, the Chairman of the Republican Caucus, the Minority Floor Leader, the Minority Whip and the Chairman of the Democratic Caucus have been duly thanked, congratulated, felicitated and lauded for their exemplary service during the 138th Regular Session of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, All of these gentlemen have performed their duties faithfully and well; and

Whereas, it is internationally known that the Senate of Pennsylvania gives credit where credit is due; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania do hereby officially thank and congratulate the faithful and hard-working staff of Senate officials and employes for a good job well done; and be it further

Resolved, That the official record show the gratitude and esteem that we the members hold for Secretary Watkins, Chief Clerk Ridge, Librarian Lathero, Chief Reporter Nolan and all others on the Senate staff who have done their work so admirably.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE
NOMINATIONS

Mr. LORD, JR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LORD, JR., from the Committee on Executive Nominations reported with a favorable recommendation the following nomination, made by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth:

MEMBER OF THE NAVIGATION COMMISSION FOR
THE DELAWARE RIVER AND ITS NAVIGABLE TRIBUTARIES

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 28, 1949.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Lewis
A. Kapelski, Parkside, Delaware County, for appointment as a Member of the Navigation Commission for the Delaware River and its Navigable Tributaries, for the term of four years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified, vice William D. Mason, Swarthmore, resigned.

JAMES H. DUFF.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATION
RULE 38 SUSPENDED

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. LORD, JR., and Mr.
WATKINS,

To grant unanimous consent to immediate consideration of the nomination just reported from the Committee on Executive Nominations, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nomination reported.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. LORD, JR. and Mr.
WATKINS,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nomination reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

SENATE BILL No. 488 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call from the table
Senate Bill No. 488, which was returned from the House with amendments.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill
No. 488, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections fifteen and twenty-one of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 207), entitled "An act providing when, how, upon what property, and to what extent, liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements, for the removal of nuisances, and for water rents or rates, sewer rates, and lighting rates; for the procedure upon claims filed therefor; the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims; the effect of judicial sales of the properties lien-ed; the distribution of the proceeds of such sales, and the redemption of the property therefrom; for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed, and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed, within six months before the passage of this act;
and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly," by clarifying certain provisions; eliminating provisions for signatures of county controllers and facsimile signatures; and requiring the payment to the prothonotary of additional fees under certain circumstances.

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the Title, page 2, by inserting between lines 10 and 11 of the Title, the following: "in certain counties and political subdivisions thereof;" Amend Section 1, page 4, by inserting after line 19, the following: "in all counties of the fifth class and the political subdivisions in such counties;" Amend Section 1, page 5, line 1, by striking out the right-faced bracket before the word "shall;" Amend Section 1, page 5, line 1, by striking out the left-faced bracket after the word "dollar," and before the word
"shall," and inserting in lieu thereof, the following: "and in all other classes of counties and the political subdivisions thereof he."

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 488

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 488.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PRESENTATION OF WEDDING GIFTS TO THE HONORABLE JOSEPH M. BARR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will proceed with his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have had the privilege over the past eight years, of serving in this Senate with one of the favorite sons of Allegheny County, the distinguished gentleman from the fair city of Pittsburgh, the Honorable Joseph M. Barr.

Those of us who have had the rare privilege of knowing Joe Barr have learned to love him not in spite of but because of his very friendly personality, and his fiery, firecracker temper. One of the finest exhibitions that I have seen in my public life is Joe Barr insisting in his flaming tongue that I keep my temper.

Mr. President, back in 1920, I had the rare distinction and privilege of joining a very select fraternity, known to those of us who have been blessed by being officially initiated into that family of folks who are married. Now, Mr. President, that is a very hallowed fraternity. There are a lot of people who are not privileged to enter into that fraternity. There are some who enter into it slowly and after a lot of meditation and careful thought. There are some who enter into it because they have patiently sought the one person with whom they feel they can spend the rest of their life.

Mr. President, I want to say right now, with all due deference to the forth-coming Pennsylvanian, who will in the very near future be Mrs. Barr, she has a task on her hands. I am only sorry, Mr. President, that he did not have the courage to bring the young lady to Harrisburg for the closing days of this Session, so that the other forty-nine Members of this Senate would have the opportunity of explaining to her some of the idiosyncrasies of our co-patriot through life. I think we could explain to her best how he can be managed. I think we could explain to her some of his follies and some of his weaknesses, and perhaps somebody would weaken and tell her some of his good qualities, too.

Mr. President, one of the nice things about Senator Barr is that he is strictly non-partisan, and he is going to prove that on the fourth day of June by marrying a Republican. Mr. President, I am deeply interested; I would like to see two registration cards about the Fall of this year; I want to see who won out. If Senator Barr is a candidate for re-election on the Republican Ticket, I think that we here on the Republican Side should appoint Mrs. Barr as the very favorite Republican of the Republican Senate of Pennsylvania, because she is certainly entitled to a star in her crown for converting one of the wildest Democrats and New Dealers it has ever been my privilege to come in contact with.

For years, Mr. President, I have had the opportunity of occasionally presiding over the deliberations of this dignified body known as the Senate of Pennsylvania. Mr. President, repeatedly I have been insulted deliberately by my colleague and good friend. The only time we are ever together is when we are carrying the ball for our Alma Mater.

Now, Mr. President, there are a few of us who will be unable to get out to the state of Illinois. Is that correct, "Joey?"

Mr. BARR. That is correct.

Mr. WALKER. A few of us will be unable to get out to the state of Illinois to witness the nuptial ceremony, but I want Joe Barr to know that on June fourth, every Republican Senator—there is something for you, Joe, that happens to be "Pop-Pop's" birthday—on June fourth every Republican Senator somewhere in the forty-eight states of this Union, regardless of where they may happen to be scattered, is going to take time out to enter into a licensed establishment, and on behalf of Senator and Mrs. Joseph M. Barr, they are going to raise their glasses on high and say to you, "Joe, may you live to be a thousand years," and "Joey," all I can say is I hope you are just as happy as we are.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just want to give Joe the very first lesson which he is going to learn about June fourth. He started to get up as if he wanted to talk.

Senator Walker has touched a very fine spot tonight when he touched a spot that is very close to the hearts of the Democratic Members, and I know the Republican Members, too, and that is that we are coming to that day when we will see the parting of the word between forty-nine Senators and one of their colleagues because there is a great deal of difference in how a man acts after he takes on the full responsibilities of married life.

Mr. President, this afternoon some one said to me, "Why, Joe's getting married at the right time." Now, Mr. President, there are some men in this Senate who might question that there is a right time. I want to say that I can talk a little plainer than Senator Walker talked because I, fortunately, left my wife home tonight, and although I know Mrs. Walker and I can say that on his side he has no complaints, I do not have much to say about her side, but I know that every man in this Senate who has lived in the bliss of married life can assure Joe Barr that he has not even started to live yet, because there is something fine about the responsibilities of married life, and that very fine touch of coming in at three or four o'clock in the morning, but Joe, do not ever get into that same position that a friend of mine gets into. You know, being a bachelor so long, you may not realize it, but night closes around ten o'clock after you are married and, although she will not be around with any trumpet to sound, she will be sounding it when you get in.

Mr. President, a friend of mine once—if you ladies will excuse me, I hope you do not listen—a friend of mine was the type of fellow that got married late in life, something like my close friend Lloyd Wood. He ought to be making this speech because I fell early before I had much resistance, Joe, but Lloyd ran out on us. Where is Mr. Wood, may I ask? This is as much a speech for him as it is for Joe Barr.

Joe, if ever you come in at four o'clock in the morning, and your wife is sleeping, and she rolls over and says, "Is that you, Joe?" there is one stock answer, and you better learn it now. You just say, "It better be."

Mr. President, the Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania and some of our friends delegated a small committee of the Senate, made up of Republicans and Democrats, to form a committee to pick out some memento to present to Senator Barr tonight that he would take with him on that never to be forgotten trip on June fourth, to remember as years roll by that he sat in the greatest deliberative body in the Commonwealth, and I would say in the entire nation; that he sat with men, although they differed on many occasions upon the various acts of the Legislature before them, they never differed in principle and always fought to the best of their ability for the things they believed to be right; and, Joe, as the years go by, and you have occasion to look upon the face of one of the gifts that we are giving you, I think the hands upon it will reach out and say to you, these are the hands of friendship, leaning across the years to shake your hand again, given by your colleagues in the Senate of Pennsylvania in 1949.

Senator Barr, on behalf of your colleagues in the Senate, I would like to present to you this small token of our regard.

(Presentation of Gift to the Honorable Joseph M. Barr.)

Mr. T. NEWELL WOOD. Mr. President, I think that our distinguished Senator from Allegheny County is probably about to make one of the great mistakes of his life. Joe, if you will just look over here in the visitors gallery, you will see what happens after sixteen years or seventeen years of it. When you want to come to the Session, your wife is going to come with you, because she will be lonesome at home alone, so I warn you that I do not believe she will have much use for the little token that we have for you, if she is not going to have you there to hold her hand and say kind words to her, and explain all of the legislation, and when you get all through, she will say, "Honey, what did you say?"

Joe, with the compliments of all your friends in the Senate, I present to you this token of our esteem.

(Presentation of Gift to The Honorable Joseph M. Barr.)

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am more confused than usual, and that is really a confused mind.

I actually want to say that I am flabbergasted. In fact, during this whole Session I have not slept well at night worrying about the bill—Senator Rosenfeld says, "the bill is to come." Mr. President, as you know, I am rather a gabby person, but now I am at a loss for words.

Mr. President, there is one thing that I have missed in this Session, and that is my usual fights with "Johnny" Walker. When "Johnny" was not the Majority Leader, his wife used to complain when she picked up the Pittsburgh papers, and saw that John and I did not have a fight this one certain day, but, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I knew what an arduous job "Johnny" had this year, so we got along very well.

Now, Mr. President, John made a very, very bad misstatement when he was talking. He said that the only time we were together was on something for "Pitt". The last official act in this Senate tonight was when we agreed on the House amendments to the Barr-Walker Senate Bill No. 488, which had nothing to do with the University of Pittsburgh.

Seriously, Mr. President, I know that at the next Session I will probably have to live a little different life, and by that I mean by going home just a little earlier.

Mr. President, it is true that my sweetheart is a Republican, but I guarantee you, John, that means one more Democrat, come this November.

I seriously am at a loss, as I said, for words. I do not know just how to thank the forty-nine friends I have in this Senate Chamber. I thought that "Johnny" Dent said it very well yesterday when he was talking about if we had to eliminate one of the thirty-five, which one we would eliminate. We have had some great fights and great arguments, but when we get beyond the rail, we are all very personal friends.

Mr. President, I think about the only thing I can say is that in my opinion there are fifty gentlemen, and I am going to include myself, fifty-one with the Lieutenant-Governor in this Body, and I thank you gentlemen from the bottom of my heart.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I am very, very happy tonight over the good luck and good fortune of my good friend and colleague on my left, and I would like to say to you on my right, that I am very happy because he is entering into this proposed merger with such a light heart, and with such high and fond hopes, and I just want to tell my good friend, Joe, that even though he has been sitting here with us in the Minority, he has never been in the minority before. I want him to know that we who have gone before know that he is now joining the army that has never won a battle.

Mr. President, I will say that perhaps if my good friend does become the benedict, next year, when the telephone rings, and they do not know whether they want Barr or Tarr, we will not have the Barr, Tarr and Carr mix-up, but I do wish for him everything that is good in this life and I am hopeful that he can persuade the little woman to become a Democrat. However, we who have fought the battle know that he has two strikes against him, and the gun in the other hand is loaded, but all the luck in the world to Joe, and to his lovely Alice. We hope to see him here in the Senate come a couple of years, and we can say that besides Joe being the best little old fellow in the Senate, they are the nicest couple in the state.

The PRESIDENT. I might say that the Senate does something for the Senators who are married, and absence makes the heart grow fonder to a great degree, because one night one of the distinguished Senators from this Body, after leaving here in the wee hours of the morning, went out for a stroll to get stuff and things, and got back to his hotel room and said, "I must call up my wife and just say hello", and he called up and said to his wife, "How are you, dear?" She said, "Fine", and then he said, "Where are you?" "Listen", she said, "I am at home, the same place I was three minutes ago when you called me up."

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentlemen of the Senate that we will clear the desk, and then make arrangements for the press to take over the Senate. They have taken us across many times so they may as well start taking us over.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE SENATE TO
SENATE BILL NO. 367

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being inroduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 367, entitled:

If a majority of the votes cast at any such election shall be in favor of remaining a township of the first class no further proceedings shall be had for a period of four years after which period the board of township commissioners by unanimous action may or upon petition of ten per centum of the registered voters of the township shall through the county board of elections resubmit the question to the electors of the township in the manner hereinbefore provided.

[The provisions of this and the preceding section shall apply to all townships of the first class the governments of which as townships of the second class have not been actually organized at the time this act becomes effective and such townships shall continue as townships of the first class until the election hereinbefore provided shall determine otherwise.]

(c) Creation of Townships of the First Class
By Consolidation

Section 210 Manner in Which Townships of the First Class May Be Created The court of quarter sessions may upon the presentation of petitions as hereinafter provided create new townships of the first class by the consolidation of two or more townships of the first class located in the same county.

Section 211 Petitions (a) Petitions for the creation of townships as provided in the preceding section shall be signed by registered electors equal in number to at least five per centum of the highest total vote cast for candidates for any office in the townships affected at the last preceding municipal election. Such petition shall be sworn to and subscribed by at least three of the signers.

(b) Petitions for the consolidation of townships may also be presented when signed by a majority of the commissioners of each of the townships proposed to be consolidated and sworn to and subscribed by at least one commissioner from each such township.

Such petitions shall set forth the name of any proposed new township and shall specify the reasons for such consolidation. Each such petition shall be accompanied by an accurate map or plot prepared by an engineer showing the lines of the new township and the present division lines between such townships. Where natural marks are on such lines they shall also be shown.

Section 212 Confirmation Nisi of Petition Notice of Filing Upon the presentation of any such petition the same shall be confirmed nisi and the court shall by its order require such notice to be given by the petitioners to the residents and commissioners of the townships affected as it deems proper.

Section 213 Exceptions Confirmation Absolute of Petition Within thirty days after the filing of such petition any taxpayer of the township affected may file exceptions to such petition questioning the sufficiency of the number of signers or the legality of any signatures or the accuracy or sufficiency of the map or plot attached thereto. The court upon the filing of any exceptions shall fix a day for hearing of which such notice shall be given as the court may direct. At such hearing the court shall hear all parties interested and their witnesses. If the exceptions in the opinion of the court are sustained and the court deems the petition not amendable it shall dismiss the petition otherwise it shall confirm the same absolutely after any amendments permitted by the court have been made.

Section 214 Elections When any petition is confirmed absolutely the court shall order an election to be held on the question of the consolidation of such townships which shall be held on the day of the next general or municipal election occurring at least [sixty] ninety days after such order of court. Such election shall be held at the regular polling places in the townships affected. At any such election all of the [qualified] registered electors of the townships affected by such consolidation shall have the right to vote. The ballots at such election shall be furnished by the county commissioners and the question to be placed thereon shall be framed and printed on the ballots as provided by the [election laws of the Commonwealth] Pennsylvania Election Code.

Section 3 Section 215 of said act is hereby repealed.

Section 4 Sections 216 217 218 and 219 of said act are hereby reenacted revised and amended to read as follows.

Wards

Section 401 [Petitions to Create Divide or Redivide Wards] Creation Division and Redivision of Wards The court of quarter sessions upon petition may divide or redivide any township heretofore or hereafter created into wards erect any wards out of two or more adjoining wards or parts thereof divide any wards already erected into two or more wards or alter the lines or boundaries of any two or more adjoining wards and may cause lines or boundaries of wards to be fixed and established No township shall be divided or redivided into more than fifteen wards

No ward shall be created containing less than three hundred registered electors therein and all wards which now or at any time hereafter shall contain less than three hundred and fifty registered electors therein may in the discretion of the court be abolished and if so abolished the territory thereof shall be distributed among the remaining wards in such manner as the court of quarter sessions shall direct. All other wards as heretofore established shall remain as heretofore until altered or divided as provided in this article.

Provided That if in townships wherein any ward shall be abolished as herein provided the number of wards shall be reduced to less than five then the commissioner in the ward or wards abolished shall continue in office for the term for which elected and shall become [the] a commissioner or commissioners at large from such township as provided in this act with respect to townships having less than five wards.

Section 402 Signing Petition Appointment and Powers of Commissioners The petition shall be signed by at least twenty free holders residents of the township or of the ward or wards the limits of which it is proposed to change. Upon the presentation of the petition the court shall appoint three impartial men as commissioners one of whom shall be a [civil] registered engineer or surveyor to inquire into the propriety of granting the prayer of the petitioners. The commissioners or any two of them shall make a report to the [next term of] court and shall accompany it with a plot showing the boundaries of the township and the wards before and after the proposed change whenever the same cannot be fully designated by natural lines.

Section 403 Filing and Confirmation of Report Exceptions When the [same] report is presented the court shall confirm the report nisi which confirmation shall become absolute unless exceptions thereto are filed within thirty days after such confirmation nisi. The court may grant a review if in its opinion a better adjudication may thereby be secured. If no exceptions are filed the court may confirm the report or make such other order as by it shall be deemed proper. If exceptions are filed the court shall fix a time for hearing and thereafter shall enter such decree as by it shall be deemed just and proper. From the final decree as entered by the court of quarter sessions there shall be no appeal.

Section 404 [Pay] Compensation of Commissioners The commissioners appointed under the provisions of this act shall receive [ten dollars per diem except the civil engineer who shall receive twenty dollars per diem. Each commissioner shall also be entitled to mileage at the rate of five cents per mile circular] such compensation as the court shall fix. The compensation of the commissioners [and mileage] and reasonable attorney's fees shall be paid by the township in all cases where the prayer of the petitioners is granted and in other cases shall be paid by the petitioners.

Section 405 Election Districts The court of quarter sessions may from time to time divide any such ward into two or more election districts so as to suit the conveniences of the electors thereof.

Section 406 Numbering of Wards When any township shall be divided or redivided into wards or when any ward in any township shall be created divided or altered the court shall in its decree fix the number of each of the wards of such township.

Section 407 Schedule for Election of Commissioners in Townships First Divided into Wards When a township is first divided into wards the township commissioners then in office shall continue in office until the expiration of their respective terms.

At the first municipal election occurring at least ninety days after such division into wards there shall be elected by the [qualified] registered electors of each ward of the township one township commissioner who shall reside in the ward for which he is elected. At such election the township commissioners elected in even-numbered wards shall be elected for terms of two years each and those in odd-numbered wards for terms of four years each or vice versa as the case may be in order that the expiration of such terms will harmonize with the expiration of terms of township commissioners elected for such numbered wards under the provisions of this act. Thereafter successors to such commissioners shall be elected [by wards shall be elected] for terms of four years each at the municipal election immediately preceding the expiration of the terms of ward commissioners.

If the number of wards into which the township has been divided is less than five then at the municipal election preceding the expiration of the terms of any commissioner or commissioners theretofore elected at large if such expiration of terms will leave the township with less than five township commissioners there shall be elected at large a sufficient number of township commissioners so that the total number of commissioners elected by wards and at large in the township shall thereafter be five. If one township commissioner is elected at large at such election he shall be elected for a term of four years. If two township commissioners are elected at large at such election one shall be elected for a term of two years and one for a term of four years. If three township commissioners are elected at large at such election two shall be elected for terms of four years each and one for a term of two years. Successors to such township commissioners elected at large at such election shall be elected for terms of four years each.

All terms of office of township commissioners elected at large or by wards shall commence on the first Monday of January next following their election.

Section 408 Schedule of Election of Commissioners in Newly Created Wards Whenever in a township previously divided into wards a new ward is created and the number of wards thereafter in such township including the new ward is less than five then at the municipal election next following the expiration of the term of the commissioner or commissioners elected at large whose terms shall first expire after such creation there shall be elected by the [qualified] registered electors of such new ward one township commissioner who shall reside in the ward for which he is elected for a term of two or four years so that the expiration of his term will harmonize with the expiration of terms of commissioners for such numbered wards under the provisions of this act. Successors to such township commissioners shall be elected for terms of four years. The number of commissioners thereafter elected at large in any such township shall be the difference between the number of wards and five and a sufficient number of commissioners shall be elected at large at each municipal election preceding the expiration of terms of commissioners at large so that the total number of commissioners in the township will at all times be five.

Whenever in any township previously divided into wards a new ward is created and the number of wards thereafter in such township is five then at the municipal election preceding the expiration of the term of office of any commissioner or commissioners elected at large a township commissioner shall be elected for such ward who shall reside in the ward. Such election shall be for a two or four year term so that the expiration of his term will harmonize with the expiration of terms of commissioners for such numbered wards under the provisions of this act. The successor to such ward commissioner shall be elected for a four-year term. No township commissioner shall thereafter be elected at large in such township.

If the number of wards in such township including the new ward shall be more than five the court of quarter sessions shall appoint a township commissioner for such new ward who shall hold office until the first Monday in January succeeding the first municipal election at which township commissioners are elected in such numbered wards under the provisions of this act at which election and every four years thereafter a township commissioner who shall reside in the ward shall be elected by the qualified electors of said ward for a term of four years.

All township commissioners elected under this section shall take office on the first Monday of January next succeeding their election

NO. 349 DISCHARGED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Committee of Conference, on the part of the Senate, on House Bill No. 349, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 284), entitled as amended "Beverage Tax Law," increasing the rates of certain taxes for a further limited period of time.

be discharged.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

MOTION THAT SENATE RECEDES FROM ITS AMENDMENTS
NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 349

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate recede from its amendments non-concurred in by the House to House Bill No. 349, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 284), entitled, as amended "Beverage Tax Law," increasing the rates of certain taxes for a further limited period of time.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, House Bill No. 349 is known as the beverage tax bill, and I think a great injustice is being done to this industry at this time. The brewing industry of our Commonwealth has been obliged and gone along the last two years, and for years on back, and paid a tax upon their product. They made no opposition when the Governor of the Commonwealth asked them to absorb a further tax program. The brewing industry now pays more tax on their product than any one industry in the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, they have asked for an allowance of five per cent on breakage. I thought they were very liberal. The men on Capitol Hill, without any squabble of any kind, gave the soda pop men an eight per cent refund on breakage. We men here on Capital Hill have made an allowance for the cigarette people. We also have made an allowance for the gasoline men. Here we have one industry which pays more tax than any other industry on their product, and who have been very liberal in their request, because, Mr. President, this industry is different than the soda pop men. Do my colleagues realize that they do have breakage? When soda pop is manufactured, Mr. President, this product is not pasteurized, they have no chance of breakage, but the brewing industry must pasteurize their beer. I am in that business I have knowledge of it, and, Mr. President, it is impossible to put a batch of beer through pasteurization without coming out with a great loss every hour because of the heat and the change of temperature. We must have a breakage refund. We don't mind paying our fair tax. We want to do our part. The men in this Chamber go along with the soda pop men on eight per cent, they go along with the cigarette people on three per cent, and they go along with the gasoline people on three per cent, so why now the discrimination on one of the most important industries of our Commonwealth?

Mr. President, I think it is very unfair, and very unjust to have us come out of this Session on the short end. I guess because we didn't lobby the place. We were courteous, we were decent, we made no offers. We thought our proposition would stand upon its own merits, but it seems to me now that we must have a new form of attack—take everybody out on parties, make all kind of promises, and maybe in this way we can get justice.

Mr. President, I cannot do much about it. I am sorry, but this body has taken that position, and I am going to ask my colleagues to vote, no, on receding from the amendments placed in House Bill No. 349.

I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I happen to be a member of the Conference Committee that was named on this piece of legislation, and I understand that this motion will, of course, discharge the Conference Committee, and will put the bill in the same position as it was when it came from the House. I do not think it ought to be misinterpreted by those who are watching the vote in the Senate at the moment that a vote against this particular motion is a vote against the beer tax itself.

Mr. President, all of us recognize that under certain circumstances in which we now find ourselves in, that it would be suicide to vote against the tax itself. If we are to have any kind of administration during the next two years, then of necessity we must provide the means by which this administration can carry forward. However, I want to put myself on record as being opposed to the idea of picking out this particular tax paying group because of the nature of the industry that they represent, and denying to them their just measure of relief in the matter of collection, in the matter of prepayment of crown, in the matter of the entire question of collecting and paying into the state a tax of $40,000,000. I think that when we set a precedent and say to the cigarette people, for the labor that you have performed to collect this tax, for the money that you must advance to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, acting as a broker in the tax matter for them, for the state, we will allow you four to five per cent of the total tax collected; then again, when you say to the gasoline distributors in the Commonwealth, you are permitted because of the extra labor—and I believe in the principle, and that is why I am on my feet at this moment—you say to them you, too, can collect up to three per cent for the collection of this tax. We allow you a so-called breakage and refund and expenses. Then again we say to the soda pop people, we allow you eight per cent of your total tax for breakage, and for the additional labor involved in the collection and financing of this, and then you say to the one large taxpayer that year after year comes to Harrisburg and finds itself the victim of many discriminatory bills, finds itself restricted in a straight jacket business, and then every year we talk about giving them tax relief on the basis of allowing them a reasonable amount of the tax for the collection and for the additional expense.

Mr. President, you must realize that a small brewer goes out to borrow money at 6%, mind you, to buy the pre-paid tax crown, and all we are asking is that they be given some relief in the operation of their businesses.

Mr. President, this is an excise tax. It is a sales tax on a specific industry, and it is the only instance where a specific tax has been placed against an industry, and no allowance is made for breakage, no allowance is made for the disparity between the amount collected and the amount paid into the state, and so I say that the brewers of Pennsylvania find themselves every two years the last victims of the Legislature. It seems that ever since I can remember, the brewery industry receives the last blow that is dealt by the dying Legislature. It seems they only have enough strength left in their right foot to kick the one industry that can't kick back, and so they leave it until last to do the job.

Mr. President, I am going to say to the brewers of Pennsylvania that I will be here two years hence, unless the Lord intervenes, and if I am here I intend to fight to re-establish this principle that is now being taken from them, that of repayment for part of the expenses to the brewing industry the same as we do to the others. I think I can safely pledge the Democratic Party to that program, and so I want to protest against this last minute knifing of an innocent industry.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, last evening when the Republican Members went to their last Caucus—of course, I have nothing to do with their Caucus—but it was decided that the only bill that would be taken up was House Bill No. 460, classification of the first class townships. I understand that some of the friends of this industry were not at the Caucus.

In my opinion, Mr. President, the Majority Party is acting in bad faith to a number of their Members.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I do not think anyone can say that I have any interest in either the breweries or beer because I am a teetotaler, but I do not think it is fair to an industry in Pennsylvania to do what we have done to them at each Session of the Legislature. I do not know of any industry in Pennsylvania that has better labor and management relationships than the brewery industry. I do not know of any industry in Pennsylvania that pays their employees as well as the brewery industry.

Now, Mr. President, with all this, they are the only industry in Pennsylvania that pays 54% tax. If they sell a barrel of beer, 54% of the money they obtain from that barrel of beer is paid either to the State or Federal Government on taxes, and I say to you that a tax system which will take 54% of the proceeds of an industry, the sponsors of such a system are trying their best to destroy that industry. If we are going to insist that they pay tax on money that they don't even receive by not allowing this breakage, which we know of and which we all know occurs because we have recognized it in other industries, I say to the Senate of Pennsylvania, we are doing our best to destroy an industry by overtaxing it, and even taxing it out of money it doesn't receive.

Mr. President, I also am going to vote against this bill because I do not want to be considered a party to any unfairness, as will be shown when the Senators pass this bill, as I know they will. We are attacking one of the best industries in the State of Pennsylvania, and I think that the gentlemen should consider that when they cast their votes.

Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to interject a partisan flavor in the dying hours of the Session when we have had such a constructive nonpartisan Session since we opened in January.

Mr. President, I just want to remind the gentlemen of the Senate, simply for the record, that the amendment was placed in the bill in the Senate, and a great many of the gentlemen on both sides of the aisle were very desirous of doing something for the brewing industry. As all of the Members of the Minority Party know, we have reached practically an impasse in the problem, and it almost resolves itself into a question of taking the action that is now before the Senate for determination or jeopardizing a large portion of the administration tax program.

For that reason, Mr. President, we have taken the position that we have. In a great many instances, it has been done very reluctantly because of the sympathy that the gentlemen have for the industry involved, and I think purely on that basis, that the problem is now presented to the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Walker?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to inquire of Senator Walker, on this motion, we are not voting against the tax on beer. Is that correct?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in answer to the question raised by Senator Barr, the gentleman is correct. The only question before the Senate is whether or not the Senate will recede from the amendments placed in the bill by the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is to recede. The Clerk will call the roll.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made to have the roll verified. The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to make a statement in connection with my vote on Senate Bill No. 735 in order that the record may be clear on this matter.

Mr. President, this bill which provides for appeals from the decisions of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board to the Superior Court, I am voting for because as a Member of the 1939 Session, which passed the so-called quota law, it was my idea, and I feel it was the recollection and the idea of all the Members at that Session, that that law distinctly excluded clubs and hotels from the quota.

Mr. President, my vote for this bill is cast because I feel that the Superior Court will now clarify the law by giving expression to the intent of the Legislature and removing all clubs from the quota law.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL NO. 105.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 105, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections two hundred five and two hundred nine and to amend section four hundred forty-two of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers, providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by changing and fixing the salaries of certain officers of the Commonwealth.

The PRESIDENT. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE, STUDY AND CONSIDER THE MANNER IN WHICH ADMINISTRATIVE AGENCIES HAVE USED THE LEGISLATIVE AND RULE MAKING POWER GIVEN TO THEM BY THE LEGISLATURE

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KEPHART, offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Whereas, Administrative agencies have been given considerable legislative, rule-and-regulation-making power in order to carry out, enforce and supervise the laws of the Commonwealth administered by them; and

Whereas, In the process of exercising such power, many administrative agencies have used the legislative authority given them in a manner not intended by the legislative with resultant injustice and injury to parties affected by and interested in the particular activity regulated; now therefore be it

Resolved: That the Senate hereby directs the Joint State Government Commission to investigate, study and consider the manner in which administrative agencies have used and are using the legislative and rule-making power delegated to them by the legislature for the purpose of carrying out the laws of this Commonwealth with particular emphasis on the abuse of such power and whether affected parties in interest are being deprived of their rights; and be it further

Resolved, That the Commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly together with such legislation it may propose to carry out such recommendations.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the affirmative.)

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FRAZIER from the Committee on State Government to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. FRAZIER and MEADE, on March 16, 1949, reported the same without amendment as follows:

REQUESTING THE PLACING OF STATUE OF THOMAS FITZSIMMONS IN STATUE HALL, WASHINGTON, D. C.

In the Senate, March 16, 1949.

Whereas, Thomas Fitzsimmons, the American patriot, the father of American protective tariff and the statesman chiefly responsible for the financial stability of the United States during its formative years of its existence; and

Whereas, Thomas Fitzsimmons was a moving figure in every constructive act of this country prior to, during and after the American Revolution; and

Whereas, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania through the General Assembly thereof deems that the services of Thomas Fitzsimmons to our State and the United States were of such outstanding character as to make it desirable that he be commemorated for distinguished civic service by placing a statue of him either in bronze or marble in Statue Hall at Washington, or in such other location as may be determined by the Joint Committee on the Library of the United States Congress with the advice of the United States Commission of Fine Arts; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Architect of the National Capital be requested to place a Statue of Thomas Fitzsimmons in Statue Hall at Washington or in such other location as may be determined by the Joint Committee on the Library of the United States Congress with the advice of the United States Commission of Fine Arts.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from committee to lie over for one day, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 105, which was reported from the Committee on State Government, as committed.

ERECTION OF A STATE HOUSE IN THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

In the Senate, January 25, 1949.

Whereas, The dispersal and inconvenient location of the offices of the various departments, commissions, bureaus, and boards of our State Government in the City of Philadelphia is not conducive to efficiency and economy and above all not commensurate with the dignity and greatness of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and,

Whereas, The rentals paid by the Commonwealth for its Philadelphia offices for the last two decades would have amply covered the costs of an imposing state-owned building erected structurally and artistically according to the highest and most modern standards of office-building architecture, and

Whereas, The acoustics and accommodations of the rooms occupied by the State Courts in the City Hall of Philadelphia are deficient and functionally inadequate, thus requiring changes that cannot be longer delayed, and

Whereas, There is thus a definite need now extant in Philadelphia for the erection therein of a State Court House and Office Building, and

Whereas, recently the City of Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have agreed that the so called "Chinese Wall," running from Broad Street Station to 30th Street Station parallel to Market Street be removed and a ninety-feet wide boulevard laid out upon the tract of land now covered by said "Chinese Wall" and that as a part of this development the future width of Fifteenth Street between the proposed boulevard and Market Street is to be fixed at sixty-seven feet and that of Sixteenth Street at seventy-feet, and

Whereas, The execution of the aforesaid agreement between the City of Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will place at the disposal of the City of Philadelphia an available site within less than one hundred yards from City Hall having a length of three-hundred sixty-feet and a depth of two-hundred eight feet and thus admirably suited for the erection thereon of a State Court House and Office Building.

Now be it therefore resolved (If the House of Representatives concur) that:

(a) The Joint State Government Commission appoint a committee to make a study of the locational and dispersal inconveniences of the several State Offices in Philadelphia and the effect thereof upon the efficiency of the services rendered.

(b) That the City of Philadelphia be urged by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania to place at the disposal of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the aforesaid site for the erection thereon of a State Court House and Office Building.

(c) That His Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania be urged to order a study by his subordinates of the suitability of the aforesaid site for the erection thereon of a State Court House and Office Building, as well as the advisability of such a project.

(d) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania enact such legislation that may be necessary for the initiation of the project.

(e) That the Secretary of the Senate forwards copies of this resolution to His Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania, to the Mayor of Philadelphia, and to the President of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows.

COMMERCIAL CONTEST TEAM OF NORTH UNION TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL, UNIONTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, at this time I would like to call to the attention of the Members of the Senate the Commercial Contest Team of the North Union Township High School, Uniontown, Pennsylvania, of which I have the honor and have had the opportunity to be the teacher in the last so many years that I do not wish to even make that public, but they are here this afternoon on their way to the Blomsgburg State Teachers College to participate in the State Commercial Contests.

Mr. President, it is with a great deal of pleasure that I would like to present them to the Senate along with the Assistant Principal of the High School, and his charming wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E Davidson. I would like to have them stand and take a bow.

The PRESIDENT. We are very glad to have you here, and hope you enjoy the closing hours of the Session:

MEMORIAL SERVICES

In the Senate, April 28, 1949

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

This being the time fixed by resolution for holding memorial services, the Senate will be in order.

IN MEMORIAM—JAMES J. DAVIS

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. DOEHLA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Monuments to James J Davis, need be few, for he established so many during his lifetime, that others are superfluous. His life itself is a monument to the American way. An immigrant boy, he worked hard, studied at night, perservered and attained success, fame and glory.

His family migrated to Pittsburgh from Tredegar, South Wales, in 1861 when he was eight years old. They later moved to Sharon, Pennsylvania, where he attended its public schools and Sharon Business College. At the age of twelve he began working and learning his trade as a puddler in the iron and steel works at Sharon. He later worked in the iron and steel industry at Elwood, Indiana. He joined the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of America, was elected to various offices in that union and remained a member in good standing for the remainder of his life.

He was elected city clerk of Elwood in 1898 and elected Recorder of Madison County, Indiana in 1902. He became the Director General of the Loyal Order of Moose in 1907 and held that office for the remainder of his life. He was the chairman of the Moose War Relief Commission and visited battlefields during World War I in France, Belgian and Italy. He was appointed to President Harding's Cabinet, as Secretary of Labor, and reappointed by President Coolidge and Hoover. He served a total of ten years in that high office. He was elected to the Senate of the United States in 1930 and reelected in 1932 and 1938.

In his public life, Senator Davis was a man of tremendous stature. Never afraid, he clung to his convictions and acted always in a manner true to himself. Rated and feared by the enemies of the American way of life, he was slandered and attacked. But from those who love America and all that it means, he received devotion and loyalty, to the end of his life and beyond.

James J. Davis developed the Loyal Order of Moose, from a small group of idealists into the great organization of philanthropy it is today. He was personally responsible for Mooseheart and Moosehaven. Thousands of young orphans, well educated today, revere his memory, as the man who made that education possible, while thousands of old people, bless him for providing a real home for them in their closing days.

During his lifetime, Bucknell University, Pennsylvania Military Academy, the University of Pittsburgh, Drake University, Muhlenberg College and St. Bonaventura's Seminary and College bestowed honorary degrees upon him.

His way was made easier and his success, in large measure secured by Jean Rodenbaugh, whom he married in 1914. They reared a family of five children.

Senator Davis was a man of many activities. He was a member of the Masons, Mystic Shrine, Gretto, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Elks, Eagles, Foresters, Protected Home Circle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, Woodben of the World, Maccabees; and an honorary member of Delta Sigma Phi, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Spanish War Veterans.

On Nocomber 22, 1947, James J Davis, terminated his stay upon earth, but his deeds, his work, and service to mankind shall never terminate while life exists; therefore, be it

Resolved, That James J. Davis take his place among the truly great men of America, and that every Pennsylvanian swell with pride because he called Pennsylvania home; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his family.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIUM—W. CRAWFORD MURDOCH

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. DOEHLA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

On November 12, 1948, W. Crawford Murdoch, a man

well known to the Senate, passed away in a Harrisburg Hospital.

Mr. Murdoch was born in Pittsburgh on November 15, 1885. He was educated in the public schools of Pittsburgh and Wilkesburg.

In 1904 he founded the Murdoch Ice Cream Company, and was its manager through many successful years.

He was elected to the House of Representatives in 1914 and reelected in 1916. In 1918 he was elected to the State Senate.

An avid sportsman, he sponsored, promoted and participated in many athletic activities, including the Old Sterling Professional Football Team of Wilkesburg, Pennsylvania. He was a life member and past exalted ruler of Wilkesburg Lodge No. 577 B. P. O. Elks, and was a life member of Wilkesburg Fraternal Order of Eagles.

He married the former Grace Hamilton and they reared one son, W. Crawford Murdoch, Jr.

In recent years, Mr. Murdoch has been working with the Senate, and giving it the benefit of his service and wise and sage counsel; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate extend its sympathy to his widow, his son and his friends; and remind them that in his passing, the Senate, and the people of Pennsylvania, have lost one of their most faithful servants; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his widow and son.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIUM—CHARLES H. EALY

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion. The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Occasionally, in the chaotic struggle called life, there appears, exists for a fleet moment, then is gone, a force or energy, which leaves a mark upon all that it touches. It will strike suddenly, swift and true. It leaves but good in its wake, for it is a force of good, and the world is always better because of it.

This force is sometimes a movement, sometimes a re-awakening of men's souls and sometime a man.

Charles H. Ealy was such a force. His life though quiet was a source of guidance and influence upon his community, his State, and his fellowmen. He did not want high office, nor to be a leader. But because he was a man of quality, a man of ability, a man of honesty and a man of loyalty, his destiny was thrust upon him. Because he was a man of responsibility, he accepted his charge and became a man of destiny.

Senator Ealy was born in Shellsburg, Pennsylvania on January 25, 1884. His father, Doctor Taylor Filmore Ealy, and his mother, Mary Ramsey Ealy, reared him to manhood in Shellsburg, and equipped him with the qualities which made him a leader in his adopted Somerset.

Educated in Bedford Academy and Bucknell University, he studied law at the University of Pittsburgh. He was admitted to the practice of law of the several courts of Somerset County, the courts of Allegheny County, the Superior and Supreme Courts of Pennsylvania, the district courts of the United States and the Supreme Court of the United States.

He practiced law in Somerset and because he had a judicial mind such as one rarely encounters, and in integrity beyond reproach, he quite properly and naturally, rose to the foremost ranks in the legal profession.

He had never been ambitious to enter the Senate, or to remain there, but as a patriotic citizen devoted to the performance of his duty, he yielded each time he was a candidate to the persuasions of those who regarded his presence in the Senate necessary to the general welfare. He was first elected in 1926 and continued to serve in the Senate until 1946. The Senate, recognizing his value, accorded him a singular honor, in electing him President Pro Tempore for four successive years.

Senator Ealy was a man devoted to learning. He spent long hours studying every phase of history, and believed that as medicine employs the history of physical diseases for the avoidance of those evils, statesmen and political leaders should employ history for the avoidance of social and political ills that have destroyed nations. He practiced that belief, and became a source of sound counsel to all in the Senate.

Senator Ealy took his greatest pride in his family, and was a devoted husband and father. He married the former Edna Pritts, and they established a real American home and family, rearing three children.

The societies which he belonged to, reflected his spirit of altruism. He was President of the Somerset County Council Boy Scouts of America, a President of Somerset Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Somerset Rotary Club.

Last November tenth, unexpectedly and to the shock and sorrow of the entire State, he quit this life; therefore be it

Resolved, That Senator Charles H. Ealy be given a prominent place in the greatest of all halls of fame, the hearts of the grateful people he served; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his family.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, words are rather feeble instruments when we attempt to portray in word from the descriptive quality of a man of the stature of Charles H. Ealy, four times President of this Senate. He possessed all the attributes we consider worthwhile in our citizens.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, because of our long and intimate friendship, and my high regard and esteem for Charles H. Ealy as an honest man, I too, desire to second the Resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIUM—CHARLES E. MILLER

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Union, Mr. Wolfe.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Senator Charles E. Miller of Mount Carmel died on August 5, 1948.

He was born at Tamaqua, Schuylkill County on October 3, 1894. He graduated from Mount Carmel High School in 1914 and the University of Pennsylvania in 1918; he was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity. He enlisted in the United States Army in 1917 and served in France as First Lieutenant of 312th Machine Gun Battalion, 79th Division. After the war he was prominently connected with veterans organizations.

He was elected to the Senate from the twenty-seventh district in 1932 and served during the sessions of 1933 and 1935; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate pay tribute to its former member and extend its sincere sympathy to the family of Charles E. Miller; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his family.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIUM—WILLIAM C. McCONNELL

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Union, Mr. Wolfe.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I second the motion. The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

On March 16, 1949, Senator William C. McConnell died at his winter home in Miami Beach, Florida.

He was born at Halifax, Dauphin County on April 4, 1860. He was educated at Franklin and Marshall College and Cornell University. He entered the banking field upon graduation, and the remainder of his life was identified with that profession in his home town of Shamokin, Pennsylvania.

He was also interested in and assumed responsible positions in several water companies in that district.

Always interested in political affairs, he served as delegate to numerous State and National Republican conventions and served as a presidential elector in the campaign of 1904.

He was a member of the staff of Governor Daniel H. Hastings, with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He was chairman of the commission for the selection of a site and erection of a State hospital for injured persons of the Trevorton, Shamokin and Mount Carmel coal fields.

He was a member of the Union League Club of Philadelphia from 1892 until his death.

Senator McConnell was first elected to the Senate in 1909. He was elected to fill a vacancy in 1914, and was reelected in 1916 and 1920.

His tenure in the Senate was marked by his industry and devotion to the public good. While the Senate was in session his own interests were forgotten and he became a representative of his constituents, reflecting conscientiously and accurately their will; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate herewith record for all to see, its appreciation of this man, and that the members of the Senate extend their individual and personal sympathy to his family and friends, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his family.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIUM—CLARENCE D. BECKER

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Homsher.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Whereas, It hath pleased the Divine and All-wise Providence to call from his earthly activities the Honorable Clarence D. Becker, Senator from the Seventeenth District of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, His public and official services to his community, County and State, were such as to bring him distinction and to mark him as an outstanding citizen, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate give expression to the loss it has sustained by the death of our late colleague and friend, whose qualities of heart and mind brought to him prominence and respect and endeared him to all.

Resolved, That we extend to his family, bereaved of his manly and tender presence, our heartfelt sympathy, and pray for them that consolation that can only come from Him, who doeth all things well, and we join with them in the satisfaction of the recollection and memory of his lifework so useful and well done.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, duly engrossed and attested, be forwarded to his family.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Homsher.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, it is not my intention to speak an encomium to Senator Becker. Anything that I might say in the way of mere praise could not in the least add to the impressions he has left upon those who knew him and the times in which he lived. Nor do I intend, at this busy hour, to attempt any extended rehearsal of the many activities of his eventful career. Suffice to say that he was a man of action, and was a worthy scion of an ancestry alike prominent in the affairs of their times and generations.

Clarence Becker, throughout his lifetime, lived in the same community in which he was born. Here he established an enviable reputation as a leader in the political, social, economic, financial and educational activities of Lebanon County. No eulogy in words can compare with the tribute paid to him by people from every walk of life at the last rites for our departed friend.

Although his span of life was rather short, he accomplished more for the benefit of his fellowman than many who remain the allotted three score years and ten.

But it is as a man of culture and refinement that I want chiefly to speak of him. He had a subtle refinement that could only emulate from an inherent culture and self-control. His etiquette was faultless and without formality, and his bearing was that of a perfect gentleman. He made no play to attract popular acclaim to himself, and yet reached distinction in all the lines of his activities and endeavor. With a citizenship like his, our country will never need to fear peril from any source or kind. And with all this he was one of the kind of men, the longer and better you knew them, the greater becomes your admiration and respect.

Mr. President, we may well pause at the passing of a life like that and learn, if we can, the lesson of his example. In the race for success in our chosen lines of endeavor there is danger that the cultivation of the ethics that lie at the very foundation of high citizenship and real success in life are too much overlooked in our education. The qualities that make for such a citizen and gentleman cannot be assumed. They must be grounded in character and spring spontaneously. Nor can they be attained entirely by academic erudition, but must have their foundation in morality, self-restraint, high ideals of character and citizenship.

Personally, I felt a bereavement when word came of his sudden departure. I had learned to admire and like him as a near friend. I felt that he went

"Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIUM—CHARLES A. P. BARTLETT

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

The Senate library holds an atmosphere of gloom and deep regret, created by the genuine sorrow of all who knew Charles P. Bartlett. He was the Senate Librarian from 1943 until March 18, 1948, when he was beckoned by the shadow beyond.

Mr. Bartlett was born on November 17, 1880 at Concord, Massachusetts, the son of Charles H. and Mary Hobson Bartlett. He was educated in Massachusetts but moved to Easton, Pennsylvania at an early age, to engage in business. His business career, covering more than thirty years was marked with success. He was Secretary-Treasurer of various manufacturing corporations from 1906 to 1933. For a number of years after that he was a sales agent for other manufacturers.

He was a member of the Pennsylvania National Guard from 1904 to 1923, retiring as Major, Coast Artillery. In 1917 he served with the famed Rainbow Division under General Mac Arthur. His book, "Rainbow Memories" helped to immortalize the division. During his eighteen months in the A. E. F. he distinguished himself as a soldier and displayed those qualities which make a successful man. He returned in command of Company A, 149th Machine Gun Battalion.

His next public service was as president of borough council, Borough of Wilson. He served four years in that position and nine years as borough treasurer.

He was elected to the State Senate in 1938 and in 1943 elected by the Senate as Senate Librarian.

His successes were great and enviable, but he always considered his marriage to Mildred E. Richards, as his greatest triumph.

Mr. Bartlett was a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Easton, the American Legion and Military Order of Foreign Wars.

Though his life is over, it was good, full and complete; lived in a way that makes the promised reward secure. We grieve more for those he left behind, than himself; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the Senate extend our deepest and most sincere sympathy to his widow, and in turn ask her sympathy for ourselves. We miss him too; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Mildred Richards Bartlett.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, the resolution offered in commemoration of the death of my former friend and your former friend and colleague, Senator Charles P. Bartlett, speaks eloquently of his accomplishments and the fullness of his life.

I know it is not within our power to express upon the few pages of a resolution our deep feelings for the Charlie Bartlett we knew as a Member of this Body—as a loyal and efficient public servant—and as the Librarian of this Senate. I am, perhaps, more fortunate than most of you because coming from the same county, I knew Charlie Bartlett for many years before he came upon the Legislative scene in Harrisburg.

I am sure you will agree with me that his election—as a Republican from a normally Democratic district—is an indication of the high esteem in which he was held by his friends and neighbors back home. His sincerity and sterling character endeared him to the leaders of his party, resulting in his appointment as Librarian of the Senate where he served so faithfully and well.

Unfortunately, we are so tied up in the hustle of our daily lives—that very few of us are able to take the time to really know the people we live and work with. Once in a great while, however, we come face to face with an unusual individual whose normal actions arrest our attention and cause us to pause momentarily and just by simple observation we are able to say to ourselves "there is a real man". Such an individual was Charlie Bartlett. His sincerity and honesty of purpose was visible in his whole being—and there are times when I think if I look up from my desk I may find him smiling from the rostrum of the Senate. His kindly spirit has left its indelible mark in this Chamber.

His untimely death was a great loss to the community in which he lived, to the Senate, to those of us who knew him so well and especially to his immediate family.

I am certain—that after faithfully carrying out the Lord's command to the best of his ability, Charlie Bartlett was promoted to carry out a higher and more important task in the great beyond. I am happy that we have taken the time to pause momentarily on our deliberations to pay to Charlie Bartlett and his spirit the respect we rendered him during his life time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIUM—HENRY I. WILSON

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Peelor.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

As surely, as the soldier who dies on the field of battle, Henry I. Wilson, has given his life to his State. His service began with his election to the House of Representatives in 1899, but it can never end. Even though he died in 1947, while a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania his work was of such nature that not only ourselves but all posterity shall know its benefits. An authority on the theory of workmen's compensation, and an expert on its mechanics he labored long in its behalf. He authored and sponsored the Workmen's Compensation Acts of 1939.

Henry I. Wilson was born in Charlestown Township, Tioga County and attended its public schools. He graduated from Warner's Elmira Business College and taught school and music to finance his study of law. Admitted to the bar of Tioga County, he maintained an active practice until his death.

He was a member of the American, Pennsylvania State, Jefferson County and Indiana County bar associations. He was a member of the IOOF for thirty years. In addition to his careers in law and Government service, he was all his life an expert band and orchestra musician, a teacher, director, soloist and writer.

He married the former Blanche Bacon of Wellsboro in 1893, and together they reared two sons, Lavelle A. and Corday L. Wilson.

While serving his second term in the Senate, after six terms in the House of Representatives he was summoned to serve in another sovereignty where, though the King is God, faithful men are needed, therefore be it

Resolved, By the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, that we pay tribute to Henry I. Wilson, his long and faithful tenure and his noble and lasting work, and hold his life out as an example for all who would be great to emulate, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his family.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIUM—WEBSTER GRIM

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Watson.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Webster Grim, an outstanding figure in this Commonwealth for many years, died at the age of eighty-one years, at his residence in Doylestown in July of 1947.

Mr. Grim's life was a full one, largely devoted to the affairs of the Democratic Party in his community and State. He was a distinguished member of the Bucks County Bar. He served in the State Senate from 1903 to 1910, and in 1905 was a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court. In 1908, he was his party's nominee for the Governorship.

Mr. Grim was a great historian and a member of a great many fraternal organizations. He was Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania Independent Order of Odd Fellows and State Head of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

He was a Director of Cedar Crest College, Lehigh County, Pennsylvania, and publisher of the Doylestown Democrat.

In the passing of Webster Grim, Bucks County, and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have lost one of their most outstanding citizens, whose record of service will stand undisputed in history, therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania pay tribute to this man, his life and his work, and take cognizance of the great loss occasioned by his death, and be it further

Resolved, That in evidence of the deep sympathy of this body, the Secretary of the Senate shall transmit a copy of this resolution to his widow, who resides at Seaside Park, New Jersey, to his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Craft, Ambler, Pennsylvania, and to his son, Dr. George Grim, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIUM—CHARLES LINCOLN BROWN

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Frazier.
Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.
Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

It is a real privilege to the Senate of Pennsylvania, when it can list among its members, truly great men. Such was the case with late Charles Lincoln Brown.
Senator and Judge Brown was born in Philadelphia on July 6, 1864. He was educated in the public schools but left grammar school to enter business life. While working during the day he studied at night with the assistance of Professor A. M. Brown. He prepared for and entered the Lehigh University for a civil engineering course which illness forced him to abandon. Later he entered the law department of the University of Pennsylvania, graduated, and was admitted to the bar. He maintained an active and extensive practice of law, but still found time for public affairs. He was elected to Philadelphia Common Council on an independent ticket, to fill an unexpired term. He was reelected in 1892 and in 1894 was elected to select council.
He was elected to the State Senate in 1897 and again in 1905. He was very active in the Senate and concerned himself with its every activity, and in particular he took interest in pure food legislation.
He was elected to Philadelphia Municipal Court in 1913 and was appointed President Judge in 1914. He is the man responsible for establishing that court as it exists today. The Philadelphia Court as a whole, and particularly the juvenile and domestic relations divisions are considered models the country over. He organized the administrative divisions and all departments of the court. The part of which he was most proud was the Medical Department. It is supervised by a Board of eminent physicians who serve without pay. This Board has selected all of the paid staff of physicians, psychologists, and nurses who are appointed by the judges. The reports of that Department enable the sitting judge to have a complete medical and psychiatric report of the individuals appearing before him.
Judge Brown's fame as a jurist was further enhanced by the manner in which he handled the cases before him.

His personal integrity combined with his judicial mind and complete impartiality to make an ideal jurist.
Because his life and his works were devoted to and successful in, making the world, to some measure, a better place to live, therefore be it
Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania endorse his way of life, his works, and hold him out as an example to every young person who would make a mark upon the sands of time, and achieve personal happiness and contentment in doing it; and that the members of the Senate extend their sympathy to his family and his friends, and be it further
Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his family.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that these memorial services do now adjourn.
Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.
Whereupon,
The President of the Senate declared the memorial services adjourned.

EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION BY PRESIDENT OF SENATE

The PRESIDENT. At this time I would like to take this opportunity as the President of this Senate to express my appreciation of the opportunity to serve here in this capacity.
When I came here at the beginning of the Session of 1947, I was looked upon as a freshman coming into the Halls of the Senate, and when I came here in 1949, I was promptly taken into the family, feeling that I was more acquainted with the running of the Senate, and now at the end of this Session, I feel in my own heart that I am entirely familiar with the operation of the Senate.

I want to say to you that it is one of the grandest groups of men that I have ever come across. Naturally, this is a floor where debate occurs, it is a place where we launch forth with our ideas, and where people are anxious sometimes, and sometimes compelled to listen, but I believe that most of us try to do what we believe is best for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I hope that when we come back here in, I think in January of 1951, for the final days of the Administration, when we will have a new Senate coming in, that I will see all of you back here again.

I also would like to take this opportunity to pay my respects to the ladies, to the auxiliary over here on the left.

Many of them have been faithful, they have been watching, and I know they have gathered many words of wisdom, and I should imagine that after this is all over, that some of the husbands will be hearing about the activities of the various Senators. It goes to make a good family feeling.

We appreciate your interest because it shows that you are not only interested in your husbands, and those who are close to you, but that you enjoy the operation of the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to say to you, sir, on behalf of the Members of the Senate, that we have enjoyed this 1949 Session with you, and you have been very patient with us in our deliberations. At times we all appreciate the fact that we have been a little difficult to handle because, after all, at least fifty of us here in this room are just grown up boys.

We appreciate your very kind words to the auxiliary on the left. As you suggested, sir, when we go home, we will hear great reports on what transpired here. May I say to you, Governor, that most of it will be, "Why can't you be as nice as Governor Strickler"?

Governor, we understand also that at the opening of the 1951 Session, for a couple of weeks, at least, you will still be the Presiding Officer of the Senate. May I say, Governor, that there are twenty-five of us here that hope we will be back with you.

Mr. FRAZIER. Will the Governor permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. I will be glad to.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I would just like to ask, sir, when you said the ladies have heard many words of wisdom, whether you meant from the Fostrum or from the floor of the Senate, or both?

The PRESIDENT. I am sure it was from the floor of the Senate because all I can do is interpret what you gentlemen have in mind.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in fear of being contradicted, I might say that if you could interpret what we have in our minds, you would be good.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we are about to close another memorable Session of the Legislature in the state of Pennsylvania. Some of us will leave here feeling that we have contributed somewhat to a better way of life for all of the citizens of this Commonwealth, and I am sure that no other single group of citizens could be selected that collectively could do anymore than we have tried to do in that direction.

Mr. President, I know that some of the interested parties on the side lines cannot understand why there is a division on the things that they are so particularly interested in.

I remember when we were talking about the nurses' bills, we became rather confused because each day there was a shifting of the proponents and opponents, and I just developed the stock answer that when they would say, "Are you going to help me out?", I would say, "Yes". Finally, when we voted I found out that the one I said I would help out didn't want to be helped the way I helped her out, and she was a little bit peeved about it, but I think afterwards she realized that we have to make a decision. Every man in this room receives a great deal of encouragement, you might say, from those who are interested in particular pieces of legislation.

Mr. President, I remember talking to an attorney on the side lines one afternoon. He said to me, "How are you going to vote on this particular bill"? I said, "Well, frankly, I decided to vote against it". He said, "what are your reasons for voting against it"? I said, "Well, to tell you the truth, I happen to be interested in a business that will be affected." He said, "That's a heck of an attitude to take about the bill." It was all right in that man's mind for me to stand up, and for every Member of the Senate to stand up and help his client in that particular case, but sometimes the clients we have are the people of Pennsylvania, and we have to determine what we think is best for them. The Majority and the Minority programs try at all times to do that, I am sure of that. I am sure of that because I have served in both capacities, both as a Majority and Minority Member, and I know at no time have we ever deliberated with the sole purpose in mind of creating an injury to any person or any group of persons.

Mr. President, it has been an extreme pleasure to serve during this Session. I have enjoyed the relationship between the Minority Leadership and the Majority Leadership. I am sure that the relationship has been pleasant on my part, and I know that Senator Walker has given me a great many considerations upon a great many occasions. I have never had to ask him but once for anything within the realm of his giving that he was not always ready to do whatever he could, within the prescribed rules, to help us out on this side. We know that we only have fifteen Members on this side, but I am proud of the fact that the thirty-five Members on the other side have always considered us individually as just an equal part of the Senate of Pennsylvania, as they would consider themselves.

To the Lieutenant-Governor, I want to say that although tempers have risen on a few occasions, and we would liked to have had you give us the decisions on occasions, we also know that when we were in the Majority, and we had a Lieutenant-Governor, his eyes kind of wandered to our side a great deal oftener than the other side. It happens to be one of the things that a Presiding Officer must do in a parliamentary body.

To those on the outside who do not understand that, let me say to the credit of the Lieutenant-Governor, he has tried at all times to give us every bit of consideration that he can.

So, Mr. President, I thank all of you on the other side for all the courtesies you have given us.

Mr. President, as the names were read off a minute ago of the Members of the Senate who have left this world, I am sure that on this side of the Senate, when the roll was called, there was just as much a feeling of sorrow as there was on the other side.

Mr. President, I was particularly fond of Clarence Becker as a very personal friend. For some reason or other, things are not the same, when I go to the back room of the Senate, as they were when Senator Becker was there. He always had that friendly, Dutch smile, and always had a story on his lips, and was always ready to move way, way out of his lane to help somebody else in something that they desired. Every man in this Senate that knew him lost a friend. He is one man that I know who never decided within his own heart on a man's political affiliations. I think he accepted each of us as we accepted him, and in the fashion of men and not of politicians.

Mr. President, some fellows, those of us who may not be here the next time the roll is called, may be amongst the missing, either defeated in the political wars that take place, or may be called to a higher place of activity. I just wonder if when we all die—that will, of course, happen eventually—if when we all gather up above, and I know that as Members of the Senate that is where we will gather, if we all gather up there, whether old genial Harve Taylor will be selected without a fuss. We'll put Harvey in charge of the hordes of angels up there and I wonder how many angels he'll give to the Democratic Side, and how many to the Republican Side.

Mr. President, I want to say to Harve Taylor, and I am now speaking for the Minority, I am sure, that he has never broken his word to any of us. If upon occasions we have had to go to him to speak of committee assignments, to speak of the various duties that were ours, to talk to him about friends and constituents who are in trouble back home, I am sure that I, personally, can say he has always given me every consideration, and I want to thank him on the part of the Minority Members of the Senate for his every kindness that he has shown to us.

So, Mr. President, for fear of standing here too long, to all of you, I hope that when we are back here next time that all of us will be together.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA ask and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would also like to pay my respects to all of my colleagues in this Chamber, especially to the employees, Ralph Early, in the barber shop, the boys back in the canteen who have been very courteous, nonpartisan and cared for all of us.

Now, Mr. President, may I pay my respects to George Stevenson, with whom I have had the pleasure of working during the interim on the Local Government Commission, who has been fair, impartial and has tried sincerely to shape up the work for this Session. I believe sincerely, Mr. President, that the work being done by the Local Government Commission, the State Government Commission, has helped tremendously in expediting the work of this Senate.

Mr. President, I want to pay my respects to Senator Homsher, Chairman of the Education Committee, who has been very, very fair. If any of us had bills, pet bills, he brought them up for consideration. This prevailed in the past in many committees.

I also want to pay my respects, Mr. President, to our good friend, the Doctor, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Doctor Chapman, who has been very kind and courteous in listening to us, and trying to help us out with our problems back home.

So. Mr. President, I have enjoyed this Session, and while we all wish to go home, still at this hour we get a low feeling. There is something about it that brings about sadness because history has proven that between Sessions it is quite apparent that some of us pass away. That has been true since I have been here. Between Sessions, we find that one of the men, one of our colleagues, has been called. I hope that when we do return, I would rather see a Democratic Majority—of course, I don't want to see a Republican Majority the next time—but if that is the choice of the people, we hope the same men shall return. We have found some fine fellows here, all good sports, congenial and nice to work with.

For you, Mr. President, we have enjoyed your decisions, although we haven't always agreed with you, but we realize your position. You have been fair to the Minority, and we appreciate your fairness. We wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, before I thank my colleagues for their confidence in my purpose by passing a bill which I sponsored, I would like to say that I have never been associated with a finer group of men anywhere at anytime. I am a joiner, I belong to many fraternal organizations, lodges and veterans posts, but my association with you gentlemen is the most pleasant I have ever experienced. On both sides of the aisle, you gentlemen have always been most helpful to me. The manner in which you received me as a newcomer gave me added confidence in myself and in a few days you made me feel that I was one of you. Many thanks to all of you.

Now, Mr. President, to get back to Senate Bill No. 340, may I say that this General Assembly has done much in passing this bill by making it possible to have our next generation secure preventative instead of operative dentistry by permitting dental hygienists to use the recently proven therapeutic value of sodium fluoride solution on the exposed surfaces of teeth. The use of this drug has proven that we can reduce the incidence of decay up to 70% if applied to teeth of children up to the age of twelve. Many of our schools employ hygienists, but under the existing laws, were not permitted to use this drug.

Mr. President, we as dentists are happy to have this fine group of ladies who are trained both technically and professionally to help us, as a profession, destroy the ravages of decay in the teeth of our next generation.

Mr. President, the gentlemen of the Senate have helped me far beyond their expectations when they passed this bit of legislation. We are going to be at least two years ahead of our sister states. Just this morning I received a letter requesting a copy of our bill from a Representative in New Jersey.

So, Mr. President, on behalf of the dental profession, the hygienists and the future generation, we thank you.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

COMMITTEE TO BE APPOINTED TO NOTIFY THE HOUSE THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALKER, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Resolved, That a committee of three Senators be appointed to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate is now ready to adjourn sine die.

COMMITTEE TO BE APPOINTED TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURNED SINE DIE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALKER, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Resolved, That a committee of three members of the Senate be appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, and inform him that the Senate is now ready to adjourn sine die, and inquire if he has any further communications to make.

AUTHORIZING THE PRINTING OF MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALKER, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 28, 1949.

Resolved, That five hundred copies of the Memorial exercises in memory of Clarence D. Becker, William C. McConnell, Charles E. Miller, W. Crawford Murdoch, Charles H. Ealy, Charles A. P. Bartlett, Henry I. Wilson, Webster Grim and Charles L. Brown, deceased, be printed in book form for the use of the Senate.

HOUSE BILL No. 1109 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up from the Third Reading Calendar House Bill No. 1109, which was passed over in its order, temporarily.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1109, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (d) of section four hundred twelve of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled "An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primaries and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and conifing revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" by increasing the compensation of judges of elections be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to explain to the gentlemen of the Senate, if the gentlemen will permit, I thought this had been cleared with the other side. These bills were held on the Senate Calendar, pending the disposition of comparable legislation on the other side. Now that the House has passed those bills, we are clearing these.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it has been explained by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, that the Tallman-Mallery Bill takes care of that very thing. We have no objection to dropping House Bill No. 772 and House Bill No. 1109 from the Calendar.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE BILL No. 772 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up from the Third Reading Calendar House Bill No. 772, which was passed over in its order, temporarily.

SENATE BILL No. 978 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Bill No. 978, which was returned from the House with amendments.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 978, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and the act, approved the fifteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thitry-seven (P. L. 1743), entitled "An act relating to magistrates and magistrates' courts in the city of Philadelphia; imposing certain duties upon and prohibiting certain practices by magistrates; imposing certain duties on the city controller in regard thereto; authorizing the employment by him of additional clerks and fixing their compensation; regulating the practice in magistrates' courts, the entering of bail, and the issuance of discharges in criminal cases in the county of Philadelphia; conferring certain powers over magistrates and magistrates' courts, and imposing certain duties in connection therewith upon the judges of the courts of common pleas of the county of Philadelphia; providing for the appointment and employment of stenographers to report proceedings in certain cases heard by magistrates; fixing salaries of persons employed by authority of this act; providing penalties for violations of the provisions thereof; and repealing certain prior acts," by further regulating magistrates and magistrates' courts and practice; increasing the salary of magistrates; defining additional unlawful practices; imposing duties upon the Attorney General and the District Attorney; and repealing certain sections and inconsistent legislation.

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 4, Page 7, line 8, by striking out the brackets around the word "six". Amend Section 4, page 7, line 8, by striking out after the left-faced bracket and before the word "months", the following: "twelve"; Amend Section 5, page 10, by inserting between lines 18 and 19, the following: "The chief magistrate shall have the duty and power to appoint and assign magistrates to serve as committing magistrates in such other police stations of the City of Philadelphia where magistrates are authorized or required to serve"; Amend Section 14, page 18, by inserting after line 18, the following: "In the specific cases provided by law where the party complaining is authorized to acknowledge receiving satisfaction and have the defendant discharged or in all other cases”.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 978

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 978.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I do not want to take up the valuable time of the Senate by going into any protracted and prolonged discussion of the features of Senate Bill No. 978, which this side of the Senate argued against when the bill was before us for consideration last week. At that time the gentleman from Philadelphia Senator Stiefel and I tried to point out that this was a problem affecting the “Philadelphia Story”, as we learned to know it not only in Philadelphia but in Harrisburg.

Mr. President, the O'Malley situation, about which many of you have heard and read, was the result of the right of the Presiding Magistrate and the Mayor to perpetuate their hold on the Central Police Court in Philadelphia to the point where one magistrate sat there almost always. This, as all of you know, resulted finally in charges being leveled against the Chief Magistrate of the City of Philadelphia.

Now, Mr. President, comes an effort to correct conditions as they then were, and when this bill was before us last week, this side of the Senate argued against a provision which would permit a magistrate to sit at Central Police Court once a year. We argued that if there were twenty-eight magistrates, there should be a rotating system so there would be no possibility of magistrates becoming familiar with the police and the gamblers to the detriment of the citizens of the City of Philadelphia. Notwithstanding the arguments, the bill passed the Senate thirty-five to fifteen, and if that was not enough, the House thereupon proceeded to add insult to injury by amending the bill to provide now that instead of a magistrate being able to sit there one month a year, he may now be able to sit there two months a year.

Mr. President, under the circumstances, we as decent citizens, knowing the trouble and the shame that has come to the City of Philadelphia as a result of that, must not only vote against this bill, but must ask all our colleagues, in the interest of the citizens of Philadelphia, to vote against it likewise.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I am fully aware of the fact that this bill has been penned by the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, but when it comes to Philadelphia, academic approaches are not sufficient. You must study the practical approach in order to correct the evil, and this practical approach is lacking in this bill.

Mr. President, I do not want to inject partisan consideration in the matter, but this bill, despite the fact that it emanates from the Attorney General's Office, will create a Republican monopoly in the Central Police Station, and for that reason I am appealing to all those who are interested in better government for Philadelphia to defeat this measure.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

the surviving or new corporation desires to use and the address including street and number if any of the registered office of the surviving or new corporation. If the Department of State finds that the opposed name is available for corporate use the department shall register the name and shall issue to the corporations or their representatives a certificate that the proposed name has been duly registered. If the proposed name is not available for corporate use the department shall refuse to register such name and shall forthwith notify the corporations or their representatives of this fact. Upon application of any party interested either for or against the proposed merger or consolidation the department shall include in any certificate issued by it under this section any information desired as to the names registered with the department.

Section 7 Sections eight hundred five eight hundred six eight hundred seven eight hundred eight and eight hundred nine of said act are hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 805 Articles of merger or consolidation to be filed with the prothonotary. A copy of the articles of merger or articles of consolidation as the case may be and in the case of a proposed change of the corporate name the certificate from the Department of State relating to the registration of the proposed corporate name shall be filed jointly by the constituent corporations in the office of the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of the county [wherein the registered office of the surviving or new corporation is to be located] to which the application for merger or consolidation is required by this act to be made. The articles and the certificate if any shall remain on file in the office of the prothonotary at least three days prior to the day the application for merger or consolidation will be made to the court as hereinafter provided and shall be open to the inspection of the public during the business hours of such office.

Section 806 Advertisement. The constituent domestic corporations shall jointly advertise their intention to apply to the court for permission to merge or consolidate in newspapers published in the county or counties in which the registered offices of the corporations are located in a manner similar to that heretofore prescribed in this act. In the case of the formation of a nonprofit corporation advertisements shall appear at least three days prior to the day fixed for the presentation of the application to the court and shall set forth briefly:

- (1) The names and location of the registered offices of the constituent corporations.
- (2) The name and location of the proposed registered office of the domestic surviving or new corporation or in the case of a foreign surviving or new corporation the name of such corporation and its domiciliary state together with the location of its office registered with such state.
- (3) A statement that the merger or consolidation is to be affected under the provisions of this act.
- (4) A brief summary of the plan of merger or consolidation.
- (5) A statement that the articles of merger or articles of consolidation in the case may be have been filed in the office of the prothonotary and the time when the application will be made to the court.

Section 807 Court to approve or refuse merger or consolidation. On the day specified in the advertisement or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard the constituent corporations or their representatives shall present and application for the merger or consolidation of such corporations to the court and shall present to the court the articles of merger or articles of consolidation as the case may be a certified copy of the joint plan of merger or consolidation proof of the advertisement required by the proceeding section and in the case of a proposed change of the corporate name a certificate of registration from the Department of State. The court shall consider the application. It may hear evidence on behalf of the applicants and against the application if any there be or it may refer the application to a master to make report as to the propriety of granting the application in such case. Upon the filing of the master's report the court shall grant the applicants and protestants a hearing if exceptions are filed by either of them if the court shall be of the opinion that the proposed merger or consolidation is lawful will be beneficial and not injurious to the community and does not conflict with the requirements of this act the court shall so certify on the articles and shall order and decree thereon that the articles are approved and that upon the recording of the articles and the order the merger or consolidation shall take effect as hereinafter provided in this act. However the court shall not approve articles of merger or articles of consolidation presented by or on behalf of an educational or nonsectarian charitable corporation unless and until the court shall receive the approval or recommendation of the State Council of Education or the Department of Welfare as the case may be in a manner similar to that prescribed by this act in the case of the formation of such corporations.

Section 808 Recording of Articles of Merger or Consolidation. After the court shall have approved the articles of merger or articles of consolidation as required by the preceding section the prothonotary shall transmit the articles approved by the court to the office of the recorder of deeds of the county where they shall be recorded. The laws of the jurisdiction of the surviving corporation shall also be complied with if the surviving corporation is a foreign nonprofit corporation. Upon the recording of the articles the merger or consolidation shall become effective. In case the surviving or new corporation is a domestic corporation the merger or consolidation of one or more domestic corporations into a foreign corporation shall be affective according to the provisions of the law of the jurisdiction in which such such foreign corporation was formed but not until articles of merger or articles of consolidation have been approved by the court and recorded as provided in this act. The articles upon being recorded shall be returned to the prothonotary who shall retain and file them as part of the records of the court and who shall issue a certified copy thereof to the surviving or new corporation as the case may be or its representatives. Certified copies of articles so recorded shall be competent evidence for all purposes in the courts of this Commonwealth. In event any constituent domestic corporation to the merger or consolidation was incorporated in another county the aforesaid prothonotary shall certify in writing to the recorder of deeds of such other county the fact of such merger or consolidation and the recorder of deeds of such other county shall record such certificate.

Section 809 Effect of Merger or Consolidation. Upon the merger or consolidation becoming effective the several corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single corporation which in the case of a merger shall be that corporation designated in the plan of merger as the surviving corporation and in the case of the consolidation shall be the new corporation provided for. In the plan of consolidation the separate existence of the corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall cease except that of the surviving corporation. In the case of a merger the surviving or new corporation as the case may be if it be a domestic corporation shall not thereby acquire authority to engage in any business or exercise any right which a corporation may not be formed under this act to engage in or exercise all the property real personal and mixed of each of the corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation. And all debts due on whatever account to any of them including subscriptions for membership and other choses in action belonging to any of them shall be transferred to and vested in such surviving or new corporation as the case may be. Without further act or deed the surviving or new corporation shall be responsible for all the liabilities and obligations of each of the corporations merger or consolidated but the liabilities of the merging or consolidating corporations or of their members directors or officers shall not be affected nor shall the rights of the creditors thereof or of any persons dealing with such corporations or any liens upon the property of such corporations be impaired.

by such merger or consolidation and any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of such corporations may be prosecuted to judgement as if such merger or consolidation had not taken place or the surviving or new corporation may be proceeded against or substituted in its place. If in the case of a merger the articles of [incorporation] merger shall set forth any matters with respect to which the articles of incorporation of the surviving domestic corporation are to be amended. The articles of incorporation of such corporation shall be deemed to be amended accordingly upon the recording of the articles of merger and the order of the court in the case of a consolidation resulting in a new domestic corporation. The articles of consolidation shall be deemed to be the articles of incorporation of [the] such new corporation. Any devise bequest gift or grant contained in any will or other instrument in trust or otherwise made before or after such merger or consolidation to or for any of the constituent corporations shall inure to the surviving or new consolidated corporation as the case may be.

Section 8 Clause (6) of section nine hundred four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 904 Application for a Certificate of Authority. The foreign nonprofit corporation or its representative shall deliver to the Department of State a copy of its articles and all amendments thereto duly certified by the proper public officer of the state or country of its incorporation or if the corporation is created by a special law and has no articles a duly certified copy of such law a verified translation of any part of such articles amendments or law which is in a foreign language proof of the advertisement heretofore required by this article and an application for a certificate of authority executed under the seal of the corporation and signed and verified by at least two duly authorized officers thereof which shall set forth ing pending by or against any of such corporations may be prosecuted to judgment as if such merger or consolidation had not taken place or the surviving or new corporation may be proceeded against or substituted in its place. In the case of a merger the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation shall be deemed to be amended to the extent if any that changes in its articles are stated in the articles of merger and in the case of a consolidation the statements which are set forth in the articles of consolidation and if the new corporation be a domestic corporation which are required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of corporations formed under this act shall be deemed to be the articles of incorporation of the new corporation. The aggregate amount of the net assets of the merging or consolidating corporations which was available for the payment of dividends immediately prior to such merger or consolidation to the extent that the value thereof is not transferred to stated capital by the issuance of shares or otherwise shall continue to be available for the payment of dividends by such surviving or new corporation.

Section 22 Subsections A and B of section nine hundred eight of said act as amended by the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 13) are hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 908 Rights of Dissenting Shareholders A If any shareholder of a domestic corporation which becomes a party to a plan of merger or consolidation shall file with such corporation prior to or at the meeting of shareholders at which the plan of merger or consolidation is submitted to a vote a written objection to such plan of merger or consolidation and shall not vote in favor thereof and such shareholder within twenty days after the merger or consolidation was effected shall also make written demand on the surviving or new corporation for the payment of the fair value of his shares as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken approving the merger or consolidation without regard to any depreciation or appreciation thereof in consequence of the merger or consolidation the surviving or new corporation shall pay to such shareholder the fair value of his shares upon surrender of the share certificate or certificates representing his shares. The demand of the shareholders shall state the number and class of the shares owned by him. Unless a shareholder files such written objection and also makes such demand within the twenty-day period he shall be conclusively presumed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and shall be bound by the terms thereof. If within thirty days after the date on which such merger or consolidation was effected the value of such shares shall be agreed upon between the dissenting shareholder and the surviving or new corporation payment thereof shall be made in cash within ninety days after the date on which such merger or consolidation was effected upon the surrender of the share certificate or certificates representing his shares. Upon payment of the agreed value the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares or in the corporation.

B If within such period of thirty days the shareholder and the surviving or new corporation do not so agree then the dissenting shareholder may within sixty days after the expiration of the thirty-day period apply by petition to the court of common pleas in equity within the county in which the registered office of the surviving or new corporation is situated if it be a domestic corporation or if it be a foreign corporation to the court of common pleas in equity within the county in which was situated the registered office of the corporation of which such petitioner was a shareholder which shall be deemed to be the county in which the cause of action of such petitioner arose and all process in such proceeding shall be served upon the surviving or new foreign corporation as provided in section one thousand eleven of this act for the appointment by the court of three disinterested persons to appraise the fair value of his shares without regard to any depreciation or appreciation thereof in consequence of the merger or consoli-ation. The award of the appraisers or of a majority of them shall be submitted to the court for determination and the judgment of the court thereon shall be final and conclusive. The costs of such appraisal including a reasonable fee to the appraisers shall be fixed by the court and shall be borne by the surviving or new corporation unless in the opinion of the court the action of any shareholder in refusing the offer of the corporation has been arbitrary vexatious or in bad faith in which case the costs shall be assessed in the discretion of the court. The award shall be payable only upon and simultaneously with the surrender to the surviving or new corporation of the share certificate or certificates representing the shares of the dissenting shareholder. If the award shall not be paid by the surviving or new corporation within thirty days after the order of the court thereon the amount of the award shall be a judgment against the surviving or new corporation as the case may be and may be collected as other judgments in such court are by law collectible. Upon the payment of the award or judgment the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares or in the surviving or new corporation. Such shares may be held and disposed of by the surviving or new corporation as it may see fit. Unless the dissenting shareholder shall file a petition within the time herein limited such shareholder and all persons claiming under him shall be conclusively presumed to have approved and ratified the merger or consolidation and shall be bound by the terms thereof.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

SENATE RECEDES FROM ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 349

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate recede from its amendments non-concurred in by the House to House Bill No. 349, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 284), entitled, as amended "Beverage Tax Laws," increasing the rates of certain taxes for a further limited period of time.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, this is a very sad moment in the history of Pennsylvania. We are witnessing some chicanery here this afternoon. We are showing a fine example to these youngsters who came here to witness this Session.

One thing is clear, Mr. President. We have reached the climax in this Session, and one thing is definitely clear that the Members of this Assembly have no power and no right, you might say, to pass their judgment upon any bill. No matter what we may do, if the man sitting in the front office, Governor Duff, says, "Change your vote", the vote is changed. Therefore, we have come to the point where we are laying on his doorstep the action of this Assembly.

Mr. President, we say to the Governor, "Mr. Governor, it is your fault that F. E. P. C. was defeated; it is your fault that labor received very little recognition; and Mr. Governor, it is your fault that the aged, the poor, the blind must live on a mere pittance because you, Mr. Governor, have called all the shots. You, Mr. Governor, threatened the Members of this august body. They must go along with you or else 'You lose what consideration I have given you'." This is a one man government despite the fact that we have 258 men who are duly sworn to exercise their prerogatives. It is a sad state of affairs.

Mr. President, we have witnessed the steamroller in action all afternoon, and I told my colleagues that we only gained a moral victory; that before the sun comes up, there will be many telephone calls made, many threats made, and you will find many of the men who voted for this action this morning having face abouts, voting otherwise.

Oh, this reminds me so clearly, Mr. President—the shadows have returned to the Senate of Pennsylvania. I recall that day, that fateful day, when a man was dragged out of that barber shop, intoxicated, brought to his seat, given orders to vote and hauled back out. Thank God he never returned.

Mr. President, there will be some more men who are serving their last day in this Session, not because I say that but because the people of Pennsylvania are not so gullible. They know what is going on. They won't stand for such chicanery, such trickery. It is a sad day in Pennsylvania.

We have tried, Mr. President, to give one industry justice in the operation of their plants, the brewing industry, but this same body gave the soda pop people an 8% consideration on the taxes on their industry. Why, why? Because we felt there was a loss in their products, in the selling of their products. This same body gave the cigarette people 5% to make up for losses, the gasoline people up to 3%, and for the brewing industry that now pays both Federal and State taxes upward to $11 per barrel, we are only asking for a mere pittance of 5% of a reduction due the losses in their products.

How can any man, Mr. President, satisfy his conscience by saying that the soda pop people are entitled to 8%? The only possible breakage a soda pop manufacturer may have is if the boy or girl picking up that bottle should drop it, and that is very remote. They have no pasteurization, but in the brewing industry, may I remind you again, when beer comes out of a plant, it is between 35 or 40 degrees temperature. It is bottled, and then it is pasteurized. When it comes out of pasteurization, it is 75 degrees temperature, and during that process we can't control the breakage. We have our beer in the bottle, we have paid for the beer, we have paid for the bottle, we have paid for the labor, we have paid for the crown and the tax on that crown. We don't sell it if it is broken. We take the loss on the beer in the bottle, with the crown, but we feel we are entitled to the same consideration as you have given the others which I have mentioned.

Mr. President, the gentlemen of this body felt this morning that 5% of a reduction for our losses was a fair consideration. I even talked to the men on the other side, and they said, "Well, if the Governor feels it is a big return in taxation," and I said, "Gentlemen, can we cut it in two? We will agree to 2½%." We want to be fair with the Administration. We voted for that tax, every Democrat voted for that tax. We realize we must have taxes. I thought surely we could agree, at least, to a compromise of 2½%.

Now, Mr. President, after all the work this afternoon we find men here who got up and changed their vote—they voted under a misapprehension, and wanted to reconsider their vote. Well, they have a right to do that. If that is their principle and that is their wish, it will catch up with them. Right will prevail in the long run. They will rue the day and the hour of their actions this afternoon. Some day they will regret deeply when the day comes that they must have a reckoning with their own conscience.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am not surprised at what is about to happen here this evening. We have seen it happen many times in this Session. I have come to learn in the last four months that principle and integrity mean very little in the Halls of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The only matter to be considered seriously is the matter of political expediency.

For example, Mr. President, on Wednesday evening in the House of Representatives we saw the story re-enacted, or enacted for the first time this week to the detriment of a great group of people, the workers of Pennsylvania, and I speak of the action of the House in regard to Senate Bill No. 446. We found that the Members of the House of Representatives amended the act to eliminate a wage tax on the workers of Pennsylvania, and then during a four hour recess—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the question before the Senate is the recession of the Senate from the amendments placed in House Bill No. 349.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, is well taken, and the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Neff, will please confine himself to the question before the Senate.

Mr. NEFF. One moment. Mr. President. I am attempting to make a point here, and if I may say to the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, his action here now can only be answered by me in recalling an old, great proverb.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a further point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Lawrence, Senator Neff, please confine his remarks to the question before the Senate?

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, my distinguished colleague from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, has asked me to yield, and I will do so, with your permission.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, again I must rise to the defense of an individual speaking upon a subject upon the floor of the Senate. It is impossible to carry on debate, and carry out logic, without digressing from the subject contained within the bill in the Senate of Pennsylvania or any other deliberative body.

Mr. President, I may disagree with every word Senator Neff may say, but I must defend his right to say it. This gentleman has a right to digress from the subject when his digression is only to bring out a point illustrative of the action here on the floor of the Senate.

I disagree with the point of order, and the position taken by the Chair in that matter. The subject before the Senate is the action of the Senate itself, and I now yield to the gentleman from Lawrence, Senator Neff.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, there is nothing before the Senate except the consideration of the recession of the Senate from the amendment placed in House Bill No. 349.

The PRESIDENT. If the gentleman from Lawrence, Senator Neff, is speaking on the matter of the amendment, he may proceed.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I am speaking on the amendment.

First, Mr. President, on Wednesday evening we saw the House of Representatives amend Senate Bill No. 446 to provide for the elimination of a wage tax, and then after a four hour recess come back in Session, and recede or recede from their position, following a sandbagging by the emissaries of the corporate and vested interests of the state, and by the emissaries of the Governor, and we have found the same thing happening in the Senate of Pennsylvania today.

Mr. President, what have they used to drive these people in line, who voted as their conscience would dictate this morning? They used Senate Bill No. 467, and so we found a group of Republicans, who have not gone along the whole way, voting right this morning on this measure, and now I can look forward to having them vote in the affirmative, and against their conscience, because in Senate Bill No. 367, a merit rating program dear to the heart of industry, the vested interests of the state is at stake.

Mr. President, I think that we can say, and say with sincerity and very conclusively, as this Session of the General Assembly draws to a close that Mason Owlett, Grundy and other backdoor strategists of big business can take smug satisfaction in a job well done. Once again they have been successful in carrying the ball for the special interests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WALKER. For the information of the gentlemen of the Senate, the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, and the gentleman from Lawrence, Senator Neff, know full well that there were five or six Members off the floor on Senate business, attending Senate Conferences and Committee Meetings, at the time this bill was first brought up.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, previous to calling the roll, there is just one statement I would like to read into the record as to what the brewing industry pays in taxes in Pennsylvania compared to our neighboring states.

Mr. President, it might be of interest to the Members of the Senate to know that the malt tax paid on malt beverages in Pennsylvania is quite high compared to states that have the largest malt beverage manufacturing interests.

New York State assesses a tax of 103 1/3 cents per barrel, or 7 1/2 cents per case. As you know, in Pennsylvania the tax is $2.04 per barrel, at the rate of 24 cents per case upon bottled beer.

Wisconsin, which is a large brewing center, has a tax of $1.00 per barrel, or 7 1/4 cents per case.

Missouri, also a large brewing center, has a tax of 62 cents per barrel, or 4 1/2 cents per case.

New Jersey levies 1 dollar and 1/3 cents per barrel, and 7 1/2 cents per case.

Illinois has a tax of $1.24 per barrel, or 8 cents per case.

If I may add, Mr. President, in each and everyone of those states, they have large breakages.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise on a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, will state his point of information.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, what is our position now on this bill? How are we voting, and for what?

The PRESIDENT. The motion is to recede from the amendment to House Bill No. 349, made by the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that question is very important because I want it very clearly understood that the Members on this side are not voting against the beer tax.

Mr. President, historically, the case is this. The House passed the beer tax, and the Senate amended it to give the brewing industry a reduction on the tax collected or paid into the Commonwealth for breakage. The House refused to accept the Senate amendment, and a Conference Committee was appointed. Somehow the Conference Committee got lost in the rapids of the Schuylkill River this afternoon or this morning, and a motion was made for the Senate to recede from its position.

Now, Mr. President, the vote is upon the question of whether or not we recede from our position. Am I right, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. DENT. And then, Mr. President, the vote taken now is not a direct vote on the beer tax. The record stands that the Members on this side voted for the beer tax as such. The record stands that the Members on this side voted for the beer tax with the breakage in it for the brewing industry.

Now, Mr. President, the record will be whether or not we want to continue the breakage for the industry. Correct me, Mr. President, if I am wrong.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution and were as follows, viz:

(y) "Wages of a compensated employee" [with respect to each benefit year which begins prior to the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-five means wages which were paid to the compensated employee by an employer of such employee in the base year immediately preceding the employee's benefit year and which wages shall be treated as though they had been paid in the calendar quarter in which the first compensation of the employee's benefit year was paid and with respect to each benefit year which begins subsequent to the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-five means the first one thousand three hundred and sixty-six dollars ($1366) in wages, which were paid to [the] a compensated employee by [an employer of such employee in] each of such compensated employee's employers during the base year immediately preceding the employee's benefit year and which wages shall be treated as though they had been paid in the calendar quarter in which that amount of compensation was paid which together with any amounts of compensation previously paid with respect to such benefit year equals at least three times the employee's weekly benefit rate for the purpose of charging an employer's reserve account under the provisions of subsection (b) of section 302 of this act "wages of compensated employees" as used therein shall not include wages which were the basis of credit for a waiting week or for the payment of unemployment compensation or both as a result of any employee being unemployed under conditions which under subsection (d) of section four hundred two of this act as amended by the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1186) would have made him ineligible for compensation providing any such employer within sixty days from the date of mailing notice of his contribution rate for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine as computed under the provisions of section three hundred one as amended by this act files as appropriate application with the department giving sufficient information to enable the department to determine whether or not his "wages of compensated employees" should be adjusted under the provisions of this subsection if however any such employee after the termination of the conditions above mentioned and in the same benefit year was paid compensation equal to at least three times his weekly benefit rate then the "wages of a compensated employee" which were the basis thereof shall be included in the "wages of compensated employees" for the employer for the same calendar quarter to which such wages were originally allocated by the department provided that the provisions of this subsection shall not result in the removal or transfer of any "wages of a compensated employee" for any calendar quarter to which such "wages" were originally allocated by the department in determining "state experience" as defined in subsection (s) of section four of this act

Section 2 Section four of the said act is hereby amended by adding thereto new subsections (z.3) (z.4) and (z.5) as follows

(z.3) "Computation Date" means June thirtieth of the year preceding the effective date of new rates of contribution which date shall be January first of the succeeding year

(z.4) "Annual Payroll" means the total amount of "wages" as herein defined paid by any employer during the twelve consecutive calendar month period ending on June thirtieth of any year including such wages paid by any other employer appertaining to that balance of the reserve account of such other employer which may have been transferred to such employer

(z.5) "Average Annual Payroll" means the average of the last three consecutive "annual payrolls" of any employer

Section 3 Section three hundred one of the said act as last amended by the acts approved the tenth day of June and the ninth day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 498 and 1469 respectively) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 301 Contributions by Employers Experience Rating

(a) Each employer shall pay contributions with respect to the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-eight] nine and each calendar year thereafter at a rate equal to two and seven-tenths per centum of wages paid by him for employment Provided however That such rate shall be adjusted between a minimum rate of five-tenths of one per centum and a maximum rate of two and seven-tenths per centum in accordance with the following provisions of this section if with respect to the adjustment of rate for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine the employer has paid contributions under this act for one or more quarters in each of the five calendar years immediately preceding such year and with respect to the adjustment of rates for the year one thousand nine hundred fifty and thereafter if the employer has paid contributions under this act for one or more quarters in each of the three twelve month periods ending on the computation date for the year for which the rate is applicable and has also paid contributions under this act for one or more of the first four of the last five calendar quarters immediately preceding such three twelve month periods and provided further however that no employer's rate of contribution for any calendar year shall be less than two and seven-tenths per centum unless all his contributions due on wages paid to the end of the second calendar quarter of the preceding calendar year together with interest and penalties due thereon have been paid by the thirty-first day of July of such preceding calendar year except that an employer who has timely filed an appeal as provided in subsection (e) of this section and who has been determined ineligible to receive a reduced rate solely on the basis that he has not paid all contributions interest and penalties within the time limits as required in this subsection shall have his rate redetermined and shall not be considered ineligible under this subsection if payment of such delinquent contributions interest and penalties is made within thirty days after the department has notified the employer of the reason for his ineligibility for rate reduction in response to the appeal filed by the employer under subsection (e)

(a.1) Except as specifically provided under section four hundred four wages paid with respect to employment performed under shipping articles shall for the purposes of this act be considered as having been paid as of a date determined under rules and regulations of the department irrespective of when actual payment was made to the employee

(b) Each employer with respect to any period prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred forty-eight] nine shall be liable for contributions in accordance with the provisions of this act applicable to each period in effect prior to [the effective date of this amendment] such date and for these purposes such provisions shall remain in force and effect

(c) The rate of contribution payable by an employer entitled to an adjustment [between the minimum rate of one per centum and the maximum rate of two and seven-tenths per centum for each calendar year] as herein provided shall be [determined prior to the due date of his first contribution for the year in accordance with the following table

As used in the foregoing table the term "Employer Percentage" means the ratio of the balance in an employer's reserve account to his average annual payroll and the term "State Percentage" means the ratio of the balance as of July thirty-first immediately following such computation date in the unemployment trust fund to the credit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as recorded on the records of the department to the aggregate average annual payrolls of all employers

Provided however that in no case shall the rate of any employer exceed two and seven-tenths per centum or be less than five-tenths of one per centum

[(d) An employer's rate of contribution for each calendar year shall subject to adjustment as provided in clause (f) hereof be that specified at the end of the column in which on the line opposite the State Experience there appears the percentage nearest to the Employer's Experience Provided That the rate of contribution of any employer whose Employer's Experience is in excess of the percentage appearing in column four on the line opposite the State Experience shall be two and seven-tenths per centum and Provided further That if the Employer Experience of any employer computed to an infinite number of decimal places is exactly equally removed from two percentage figures which appear on the line opposite the State Experience the rate of contribution of such employer shall be the rate specified at the end of the column in which appears the higher of such two percentage figures

(e) No employer's rate of contribution for any calendar year shall be less than two and seven-tenths per centum unless all his contributions due on wages paid to the end of the second calendar quarter of the preceding calendar year together with interest and penalties due thereon have been paid by the thirty-first day of December of such preceding calendar year

(f) Fund Stabilization Factor To assure an adequate balance in the fund to meet the benefit payments which may be expected and to avoid the accumulation of excessive reserves the employer's rate of contribution determined in accordance with subsection (d) of this section shall be further adjusted as follows If at the beginning of the first day of any calendar year the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is eight and three-tenths per centum or more of the total wages of all employees paid during the first four of the last six completed calendar quarters as reported to the department by the preceding September thirtieth then the employer's rate of contribution for such calendar year shall be further adjusted downward in accordance with the following table Provided however That if at the beginning of the first day of any calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is less than eight and one-tenth per centum of the total wages of all employees paid during the first four of the last six completed calendar quarters as reported to the department by the last day of the next to the last completed calendar quarter then and in that event the employers rate of contribution for each calendar quarter shall be further adjusted upward in accordance with the following table]

[(g)] (d) Successor-in-interest [(1) Pursuant to rules adopted by the department an employer who prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six acquires an organization trade or business in whole or in part from another employer shall immediately notify the department and for the purpose of ascertaining the rate of contribution of the succeeding employer his "Employer's Experience" shall include that of the prior employer as related to the whole or part of the organization trade or business acquired Such a succeeding employer shall receive full credit for the years during which the former employer made contributions as to the organization trade or business acquired

(2) And Where an employer [who] subsequently to the [thirty-first] thirtieth day of [December] June one thousand nine hundred and [forty-five] forty-nine transfers his or its organization trade or business in whole or in part to a successor-in-interest [may jointly make application with] such successor-in-interest may make application for transfer of the ["Employer's Experience"] whole or appropriate part of the experience record of the preceding employer to the successor-in-interest including credit for the years during which contributions were paid by the preceding employer [The] Provided however Where such transfer involves only a part of such organization trade or business of the preceding employer the department shall transfer the appropriate part of such experience record of the preceding employer only if such preceding employer has joined in such application and has filed with the department such supporting schedules or other information with respect to such experience record as the department may require. If the application for such transfer is filed in accordance with the rules and regulations of the department and within the time limits prescribed therein the department may allow such transfer [of "Employer's Experience" pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the department] only if it finds that the ["Employer's Experience"] employment experience of the preceding employer with respect to the organization trade or business or part thereof as the case may be which has been transferred may be considered indicative of the future ["Employer's Experience"] employment experience of the successor-in-interest. In the event of a part transfer of an employer's organization trade or business only [that] such portion of the ["Employer's Experience"] experience record of the preceding employer [relating to the portion of the organization trade or business transferred] as such employer's wages for the last calendar year's annual payroll of the organization trade or business transferred bears to his total annual payroll for such last calendar year shall be transferred and credit shall be given to the successor-in-interest only for the years during which contributions were paid by the preceding employer with respect to that part of the organization trade or business transferred. A transfer of ["Employer's Experience"] a reserve account balance in whole or in part having been applied for and approved by the department the preceding employer thereafter shall not be entitled to consideration for an adjusted rate based upon his [experience or part thereof as the case may be] reserve account balance which has been thus transferred.

A preceding employer or successor-in-interest who prior to the transfer was an employer during the calendar year in which the transfer occurred shall not have his rate of contribution adjusted under the provisions of this subsection for the remainder of such year. A successor-in-interest who prior to the transfer was not an employer during the calendar year in which the transfer occurred and who has made application for a transfer which has been approved by the department as provided herein and who together with his predecessor has paid contributions for the period required under subsection (a) of section three hundred one with respect to the organization trade or business or part thereof which has been transferred shall be assigned the same rate of contribution as the preceding employer for the remainder of such year after which his rate of contribution shall be determined on the basis of the balance in the reserve account which has been combined with any other reserve account which such successor-in-interest may have acquired.

[h] (e) (1) The department at least once during each calendar quarter shall furnish each employer with a notice showing the amount of compensation paid during the preceding calendar quarter and charged to such employer's account including the names of the claimants the weeks for which compensation was paid and the amount of compensation charged. All questions involving the eligibility of a claimant to receive compensation shall be resolved as provided under the pensions of section five hundred one of this act and such eligibility may not be directly contested by an employer under the provisions of this section. The clerical accuracy of the notice provided under the provisions of this subsection may not be contested by an employer in connection with any future appeal by the employer from the rate of contribution assigned to him unless within sixty days from the date of mailing of such notice the employer files with the department a protest in writing contesting the clerical accuracy of such notice and setting forth in detail the item or items to which exception is taken and the reasons therefor. Such period of sixty days may be extended with the approval of the department upon written application by the employer filed prior to the expiration of such period.

(2) The department shall promptly notify each employer of his rate of [contributions] contribution for the calendar year determined as provided in this section [and for each calendar quarter when modifications in rates are made in accordance with paragraph (f)]. The department shall furnish each employer with a statement showing the base year wages from such employer of each of his compensated employees and the benefit year to which such wages relate. The determination of the department of the employers rate of contribution shall become conclusive and binding upon the employer unless within thirty days after the mailing of notice thereof to the employer's last known post office address the employer files an application for review and redetermination setting forth his reasons therefor provided that subject to the provisions of subsection (j) of this section the department at any time on its own motion may adjust an employer's contribution rate if it finds that such rate is incorrect. The department may if it deems the reasons set forth by the employer insufficient to change the rate of contribution deny the application otherwise it shall grant the employer a fair hearing. The employer shall be promptly notified of the denial of his application or of the department's redetermination both of which shall become final and conclusive within thirty days after the mailing of notice thereof to the employer's last known post office address unless the employer shall appeal by petition from the action of the department to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County within such time.

[(i)] (f) The petition filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County shall set forth the reasons why the employer deems the rate of contribution determined by the department is incorrect. No questions shall be raised in any such petition except such as were set forth in the application for review and redetermination by the department. A copy of the petition shall be served on the secretary or his deputy. The court shall fix a time for hearing the petition and after hearing shall enter such order affirming or changing the rate of contribution determined by the department as to it appears just and proper. From the decision of the court an appeal may be taken by the department or the employer to the Supreme or Superior Court as in other cases.

[(j)] (g) Pending the determination of the correct rate of contribution payable by an employer where an appeal to court has been taken the employer shall be liable to the payment of the contributions at the rate as determined by the department. But if the rate of contribution is changed by order of court then the department shall without application by the employer make an adjustment thereof in connection with subsequent contribution payments as provided in section three hundred eleven of this act or the employer may apply for a refund in accordance with said section.

[(k)] (h) Each employer shall be given notice of the filing of valid applications for benefits by his former employees as provided in section five hundred one. Notice having been properly given as provided in such section no employer shall have standing in any proceeding involving his rate of contributions to contest the chargeability to his account of any [wages of a compensated employee] compensation paid to such employee on the grounds that he was not given sufficient or adequate notice or opportunity to be heard.

[(l)] (i) For purpose of determining whether or not an employer has paid contributions [in each of the five calendar years immediately preceding the year for which a rate is applicable as provided in subsection (b) of this section] in order to be eligible for consideration for an adjusted rate an employer who shall have served in the active military or naval service of the United States at any time after the sixteenth day of September one thousand nine hundred and forty and prior to the termination of the present war and who shall have been discharged or released from active service under conditions other than dishonorable shall be deemed to have paid contributions under this act during any [calendar] fiscal year ending on the thirtieth day of June any part of which is included in such period of military or naval service. Provided that he has actually paid contributions under this act for one or more quarters in either the [calendar] fiscal year ending on the thirtieth day of June in which he entered such military service or in the immediately preceding [calendar] fiscal year ending on the thirtieth day of June.

(j) If the department finds that it has erroneously notified an employer that his rate of contribution is less than the rate to which he is entitled he shall be notified of the revision of his rate and he shall be required to make payment of additional contributions on the basis of the revised rate. Provided That no such additional contributions shall be required unless the employer is notified of his revised rate not later than one year from the end of the calendar year to which the rate is applicable unless the department finds that the employer has directly or indirectly contributed to the error. No interest shall be required to be paid in connection with such additional contributions if they are paid within thirty (30) days from the date that the employer is notified of his revised rate.

Section 4 The said act is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section three hundred two reading as follows:

Section 302 Establishment of Maintenance of Employer's Reserve Accounts. The department shall establish and maintain for each employer a separate employer's reserve account in the following manner:

(a) Such account shall be credited with all contributions paid prior to January first one thousand nine hundred forty-nine by said employer for the period between July first one thousand nine hundred forty-five and June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-eight both inclusive.

(b) Such account shall be charged with an amount which is the total of the three products obtained by multiplying such employer's wages of compensated employees including reemployment credits if any as ascertained by the department for each of the twelve month periods ended June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven and one thousand nine hundred forty-eight by a factor for each of said periods respectively which factor the department shall establish for each of the twelve month periods by dividing the total compensation paid to all employees during such period by the total wages of compensated employees applicable to such period.

(c) Such account shall be credited with an amount computed as follows:

(1) Every employer subject to this act on June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-eight who was also subject to this act on or before June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-five shall be segregated into one of ten categories which categories shall represent respectively the years 1936 to 1944 both inclusive and the half year ended June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-five when the employers segregated to each said category shall first have become subject to this act.

(2) The average annual payrolls for the period ended June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-seven of all of the employers in each of the ten categories established in subparagraph (1) hereof shall be allocated to such category.

(3) To each separate category shall be assigned a factor which shall represent all contributions by even million dollars paid into the Unemployment Trust Fund by all employees from the beginning of the year represented by each said category respectively to and including June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-five.

(4) A category product shall be determined for each category by multiplying the total of the average annual payrolls of all the employers allocated under subparagraph (2) hereof to each category by the factor assigned thereto under subparagraph (3) hereof.

(5) There shall be distributed to each category that portion of the Unemployment Trust Fund as of August thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-five in the ratio that the category product thereof bears to the sum total of all the category products computed to four decimal places and any remainder disregarded.

(6) The amount to be credited hereunder to the reserve account of each such employer shall be determined as follows: His average annual payroll for the period ended June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-seven shall be multiplied by a ratio determined by dividing that portion of the Unemployment Trust Fund distributed under subparagraph 5 hereof to the category into which such employer is segregated by the total of all the average annual payrolls for the same period of all the employers segregated to the same category computed to four decimal places and any remainder disregarded.

(d) Such account shall be credited with all contributions paid by such employer for periods subsequent to June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-eight.

(e) Such account shall be charged with an amount determined by multiplying the wages of compensated employees of such employer for the twelve month period ended June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-nine by the state experience heretofore used in determining rates of contribution for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine.

(f) Subsequent to June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-nine such account shall be charged with all compensation by even dollars paid to each individual who received from such employer wage credits constituting the base of such compensation in the proportion that such wage credits with such employer bears to the total wage credits received by such individual from all employers. Provided that no compensation shall be charged to such account under the provisions of this subsection (f) if a charge has been made under any other provision of this section to such account with respect to the wages of the compensated employee upon which such compensation was based.

(g) Any employer at any time may voluntarily pay into the Unemployment Compensation Fund an amount in excess of the contributions required to be paid under the provisions of this act and such amount shall be forthwith credited to his reserve account. His rate of contribution shall be computed or recomputed as the case may be with such amount included in the calculation to affect such employer's rate of contribution for any year such amount shall be paid not later than thirty days following the mailing of notice of his rate of contribution for such year. Provided that for good cause such time may be extended by the department and provided further that such amount when paid as aforesaid shall not be refunded or used as a credit in the payment of contributions in whole or in part. In no event shall any such amount be included in the computation or recomputation for any year unless it is paid within one hundred twenty days after the beginning of such year.

(h) For the purpose of determining any employer's rate of contribution for any year the phrase the "balance in an employer's reserve account" as used in section 301 hereof shall mean the difference between the amounts computed or ascertained as provided in this section which have been credited or charged respectively to his reserve account either for the period during which he shall have been subject to this act ending on such year's computation date or the immediately preceding three twelve-month periods ending on such computation date whichever amount shall be the greater.

(i) The department shall terminate the reserve account of any employer who has not paid contributions for a period of four consecutive twelve month periods ending June thirtieth in any year.

(j) Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to grant to any employer any claim or right of withdrawal with respect to any amount allocated to him from or paid by him into the Unemployment Compensation

tion Fund except as provided in section three hundred eleven hereof

Section 5 The said act is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section 303 as follows

Section 303 Revision of Reserve Effect Increases or reductions of any employer's reserve account shall not affect the reserve account theretofore established for any other employer and shall not affect any other computation made under the provisions of this act

Section 6 Section three hundred thirteen of the said act is hereby repealed

Section 7 Subsection (a) of section five hundred one of the said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1145) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 501 Determination of Compensation Appeals (a) The department shall promptly examine each application for benefits and on the basis of the facts found by it shall determine whether or not the application is valid Notice shall be given by the department in writing to the claimant and each base-year employer of the claimant stating whether or not the claimant is eligible under section four hundred and one (a) and if declared eligible thereunder the weekly benefit rate and the maximum amount of compensation payable Provided That where the ["Employer's Experience"] reserve account of a base year employer has been transferred to a successor-in-interest such notice shall be given to the successor-in-interest and not to the original base-year employer and Provided further That no notice need be given to a base-year employer who has been released by the department from filing contribution reports

Section 8 Section five hundred two of the said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-two (P L 60) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 9 Section six hundred one point one of said act as last amended by the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P L 721) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 601.1 Special Administration Fund There is hereby created a special fund separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this Commonwealth to be known as the special administration fund under rules and regulations adopted by the department interest and penalties collected from employers under the provisions of this act and fees incident to appeals as provided in section five hundred two may be paid into the special administration fund such rules and regulations may provide for determining in any manner which payments of interest and penalties are to be paid into the special administration fund and which payments of interest and penalties are to be paid into the unemployment compensation fund There shall also be deposited in the Special Administration Fund moneys as provided in subsection (b) of section two hundred one of this act The moneys in this fund shall be used for the payment of costs of administration which are found not to have been properly and validly chargeable against Federal grants or other funds received for or in the administration fund and also for the purposes authorized in subsection (b) of section two hundred one of this act Said moneys shall not be expended or available for expenditure in any manner which would permit their substitution for or as corresponding reduction in Federal funds which would in the absence of said moneys be available to finance expenditures for the administration of this act Nothing in this section shall prevent said moneys from being used as a revolving fund to cover expenditures necessary and proper under the law for which Federal funds have been duly requested but not yet received subject to the charging of such expenditures against such funds when received the State Treasurer shall make payment of obligations from the special administration fund as herein provided upon requisition of the secretary and certification by him that no other funds are available or can properly be used to finance such expenditures the moneys in this fund are hereby specifically made available to replace any moneys received pursuant to section three hundred and two of the Federal Social Security Act as amended which because of any action or contingency have been lost or have been expended for purposes other than or in amounts in excess of those necessary for the proper administration of this act and are available for such replacement whether or not such moneys were expended or the obligations covering such expenditures were incurred prior or subsequent to the enactment of this amendment The moneys in this fund shall be continuously available for expenditure in accordance with the provisions of this section and shall not lapse at any time or be transferred to any other fund except as herein provided and as provided under [section] sections three hundred [and] eleven and five hundred two wherein an amount equal to any refund or credit of interest or penalties shall be transferred from the special administration fund to the unemployment compensation fund

Section 10 Section seven hundred two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 702 Limitation of Fees No employer or employee shall be charged fees of any kind in any proceeding under this act by the department the board or any of its officers or agents except as provided in section five hundred two Any individual claiming compensation in any proceeding before the department the board or referee may be represented by counsel or other duly authorized agent but no such counsel or agent shall either charge or receive any greater fee for such services than is approved by the board any person who violates any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or be imprisoned for not more than six months or both

Section 11 (a) An employer who prior to the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-nine had acquired an organization trade or business in whole or in part from another employer shall be entitled to a redetermination of the balance in the reserve account assigned to him as of June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-eight under the provisions of this act upon application made by him within thirty days after notification of his rate of contribution under the provisions of this act for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine

(b) In such case he shall be entitled to credits and charges to his reserve account appertaining to the records of such preceding employer provided that he establishes to the satisfaction of the department the year within which such preceding employer first became subject to such act

(c) In ascertaining such credits and charges the provisions of section three hundred two shall be applied in which application it shall be deemed that as used therein

(1) "Contributions paid by such employer" as used in sub-sections (a) and (d) of such section includes contributions paid by such preceding employer with respect to the whole or that part of the organization trade or business transferred as the case may be

(2) "Wages of compensated employees" as used in sub-sections (b) and (e) of such section includes such wages of such preceding employer

(3) "Employers subject to this act on or before June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-five" as used in subsection (c) of such section includes any employer who succeeded to the organization trade or business in whole or in part of a preceding employer who was subject to such act on or before such date and

(4) "Average annual payroll" as used in subsection (c) of such section includes annual payrolls of such preceding employer

(d) In respect to acquisitions referred to in this section which occurred prior to the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred forty-five such employer shall be deemed to be segregated into that category into which such preceding employer would have been segregated under the provisions of subsection (c) of such section and the credit to which he shall be entitled thereunder shall be determined by the application of the ratio mentioned in subparagraph (6) of such subsection which is applicable to such category

(e) Any change in an employer's reserve account resulting from the application of this section shall not affect the reserve account theretofore established for any other employer and shall further not affect any other calculation made under the provisions of the act which this act amends

Section 12 (a) After the rates of contributions for each employer have been computed for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine under the provisions of section three hundred one hereof as herein amended an employer whose rate so computed is greater than the rate computed for him in accordance with the provisions of this act in effect prior to the effective date of this amendment shall pay contributions with respect to the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine at the lesser rate

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of this act or of the act amended by this act the excess of any contribution paid by any employer with respect to the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine over the amount determined by the application of his rate of contribution for such year computed under the provisions of section three hundred one hereof as herein amended shall be deemed to have been erroneously paid and shall be allowed by the department as a credit without interest in connection with subsequent payments of contributions by such employer

Section 13 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and shall apply in the determination of rates of contribution for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and thereafter

STUDENTS FROM TEMPLE UNIVERSITY AND UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, it has been my privilege for quite sometime to have the honor of working with the young men of Philadelphia who are interested in learning about government, and I think it is a fine thing that the young folks are taking an interest.

As you know, Mr. President, they are attending the Intercollegiate Conference on Government, which meets each year at the University of Pennsylvania. They are doing a fine job at Temple, I know they are doing a fine job because their instructor has been on my neck time and again for service and assistance.

Mr. President, it is a privilege and honor for me to present some thirty delegates from Temple University and the University of Pennsylvania, so they may take a bow.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, on behalf of the Members of the Senate, wishes to welcome the students from Temple University and the University of Pennsylvania, and we hope that you enjoy the closing portion of the Session.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 286 DISCHARGED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Committee of Conference, on the part of the Senate, on Senate Bill No. 286, entitled:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 695

Mr. T. NEWELL WOOD. Mr. President, I desire to make a report from the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 695, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-sixth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 318) entitled "The C. P. A. Law," by prescribing educational and regulating use of the word "certified" or any abbreviation thereof or its initial letter.

I wish to advise that the Committee of Conference was unable to agree.

The PRESIDENT. The report of the Committee of Conference will be filed.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 409, entitled:

An Act to further amend section eleven of the act approved the eighteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 1043) entitled "An act establishing a public school employees retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof; establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing employees, defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payment therefrom, and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon boards having the employment of public school employees; exempting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits, and rights from taxation and judicial process, and providing penalties," by extending service allowance of certain employees.

Senate Bill No. 689, entitled:

An Act to further amend section five hundred twenty-one of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by eliminating the requirement that contractors file with the Commonwealth certified payrolls of work done under public works contracts.

Senate Bill No. 917, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and section one of the act, approved the twenty-third day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 293), entitled "An act permitting certain personnel of State owned mental hospitals to certify as to the condition of mental patients in lieu of attendance in person before any court in certain cases," by including managers of veterans administration hospitals within the provisions of the act.

Senate Bill No. 926, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Secretary of Property and Supplies to sell and convey or to lease subject to certain terms and conditions a certain tract of land and a certain right of way in the Township of Upper Saint Clair, County of Allegheny, Pennsylvania.

Senate Bill No. 970, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies, with the approval of the Governor and of the United States of America, to sell at public sale to the highest bidder a part of certain real estate located in Dauphin County recently acquired by the Commonwealth from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Senate Bill No. 978, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and the act, approved the fifteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred, thirty-seven (P. L. 1743), entitled "An act relating to magistrates and magistrates' courts in the city of Philadelphia; imposing certain duties upon and prohibiting certain practices by magistrates; imposing certain duties on the city controller in regard thereto; authorizing the employment by him of additional clerks and fixing their compensation; regulating the practice in magistrates' courts, the entering of bail, and the issuance of discharges in criminal cases in the county of Philadelphia; conferring certain powers over magistrates and magistrates' courts, and imposing certain duties in connection therewith upon the judges of the courts of common pleas of the county of Philadelphia; providing for the appointment and employment of stenographers to report proceedings in certain cases heard by magistrates; fixing salaries of persons employed by authority of this act; providing penalties for violations of the provisions thereof; and repealing certain prior act," by further regulating magistrates and magistrates' courts and practice; increasing the salary of magistrates; defining additional unlawful practices; imposing duties upon the Attorney General and the District Attorney; and repealing certain sections and inconsistent legislation.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

HOUSE MESSAGE

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS
RULE 38 SUSPENDED

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. WALKER and Mr. HARE,

To grant unanimous consent to immediate consideration of the nominations just reported from the Committee on Executive Nominations, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. WALKER and Mr. HARE,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, there are two members of the Liquor Control Board present. Commissioner Armstrong is in the back of the Chamber, and I think he should come forward and congratulate his colleague.

Mr. President, may I suggest to the two members of the Board that Senator Barr's file on the art and science of regulating the liquor industry is at your disposal.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to congratulate them, also. I have friends that get in trouble once in awhile, too.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE MESSAGE

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE CONCURRENT
RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY
UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION LAWS

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1949.

Whereas, Continuing partial unemployment which has been increasing during the past year while seasonal at times, can also be an index of a slowing down of business activity; and

Whereas, The unemployment compensation law must be adequate to handle such partial continuing unemployment as a temporary problem as well as to withstand economic stresses over longer periods in order to insure confidence of the people of this Commonwealth in the economic stability of their State; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a study of unemployment and the Unemployment Compensation Law in order to ascertain that the manner of its administration and financing is sufficient to meet the problem of partial unemployment both seasonally and during continuing periods of unemployment resulting from a general slackening of economic activity; and be it further

Resolved, That the commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly, together with such proposed legislation as it may deem essential to carry out the same.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.
